BRYAN OUT STRONG FOR W. R. HEARST

Nebraskan Declares He is Very Anxious to See Editor Elected.

A LETTER TO COLER

President of Borough of Brooklyn Says Root's Speech Will Help Hearst Candidacy.

New York, Nov. 2.—Any doubt that may have existed as to the attitude of William J. Bryan toward the candidacy of William R. Hearst was removed today when Bird S. Coler, president of the borough of Brooklyn, gave out a portion of a letter from William J. Bryan, saying that the Nebraskan "is very anxious to see Hearst elected." This endorsement of Mr. Hearst was made public with Mr. Bryan's consent.

Mr. Bryan's letter follows:

"My Dear Mr. Coler: I am very anxious to see Hearst elected and would have come to New York to help if I though an outside speaker would have been of assistance. From indications, however, he is going to win as he ought to. If I have any friends there I want them to vote for him. * * * * * *

(Signed) —"Bryan."

Mr. Bryan wrote as quoted in a personal letter to Mr. Coler, dated at Madison, Ill., and received on October 31. The portion of the letter not given out was of a personal nature. Mr. Coler telegraphed Mr. Bryan and secured his authority to make a portion of the letter public.

Mr. Coler's Statement.

Mr. Coler, in giving out the letter said:

"Mr. Bryan's letter should be enough for all democrats in this state. As for Independents, I cannot imagine that they are going to take the advice of the piratical leaders of the old predatory political system. They will, I think, before voting, ask themselves why it is that every leading beneficiary of what was known as commercialism in politics is now bitterly and hysterically hostile to Mr. Hearst. Some of Mr. Hearst's newspaper opponents must think the American public has lost its sense of humor when they solemnly quote statements of Croker and McCarren, those ideal reformers.

"Mr. Root's speech will, I think, help Mr. Hearst. It reminds me of the poster which contributed so much toward our success last year. A cowardly slander is a cowardly slander no matter who utters it."

Two Live Topics.

The cablegram sent by Richard Croker, the old Tammany leader, to Senator McCarren, of Brooklyn, and the interview with Mr. Croker printed in the Freeman's Journal, continued to excite much comment today. Charles F. Murphy, the present Tammany leader, when asked what effect he thought the cablegram and interview would have upon the coming state election, said he did not think that either they or the speech delivered by Secretary of State Root at Utica last night would change more than a few votes.

"The people's minds are made up," said Mr. Murphy. "They will vote for Mr. Hearst."

Charles E. Hughes, the republican candidate for governor, today is on the last stage of his last up state tour.

NAUGHTY UTES IN A CLEVER TRICK

INDIANS RAID A GOVERNMENT SUPPLY TRAIN.

Clever Piece of Work That Evidently Was Planned by Some of the Older Heads.

Sheridan, Wyo., Nov. 2.—Further details of the raiding of a government supply train bound for the camps of the Tenth and Sixth cavalry from Arvada characterizes it as a clever piece of work, evidently planned by some of the older heads of the Ute tribe. According to Driver James Forgen, no Indians were in sight until a bunch of about a hundred mounted redskins suddenly dashed out of a defile in the hills and quickly surrounded him. They made little noise outside of a few sharp yells in the nature of commands and while several Indians kept Forgen under their rifles the balance rifled his wagon train of three thousand pounds of flour, the sacks of which were strapped to the cayuses of the Indians, who then disappeared into the hills.

As the result of the raiding of the supply train the troopers are in need and the operations looking to a chase of the Utes are practically at a standstill until supplies can be had. More supply trains will be sent out from Arvada at once. Troops from Fort Keogh with supplies are now at Ashland, en route to the camp of the Tenth near Moorhead.

The Utes have completely outwitted the military and are now reported back in Wyoming on the Powder river, retracing the route by which they entered Montana. They evidently knew of the arrival of the troops at Ashland and have either given up the attempt to reach the Cheyennes or are waiting for that band to meet them in some other part of the country. The Utes on Bear creek have not moved, according to telephone advices received here.

NEAR END OF SWING ROUND THE CIRCLE

FAIRBANKS' SPECIAL DOES SOME NORTH STATE TOWNS.

In One Place School Children Turn Out and Greet Him as the Next President.

Indianapolis, Nov. 2.—The special train bearing Vice President Charles W. Fairbanks on his speaking tour of the state started today from South Bend. The day was to be spent in northwestern Indiana, ending with a meeting tonight at Terre Haute. Governor Hanly and John L. Griffiths, consul to Liverpool, were on the train with the vice president.

The weather was ideal and Mr. Fairbanks was apparently as fresh as when starting on his four days' speaking tour of the state. Meetings were scheduled today for Elkhart, Goshen, Warsaw, Wabash, Peru, Logansport, Kokomo, Frankfort, Delphi, Lafayette, Crawfordsville, Rockville and Terre Haute. The train will travel 283 miles before night. A freight wreck between Peru and Logansport caused a loss of time in the schedule as a detour was necessary.

Early Crowd at Elkhart.

At Elkhart, notwithstanding the early hour, a good sized crowd was awaiting the train, the people cheering enthusiastically when Mr. Fairbanks made his appearance. In his address the vice president called attention to national and local prosperity, appealing to the people to uphold the national and state administrations in their policies by electing a republican congress and a republican legislature. A warm tribute was paid to Representative Brick.

On account of the death of Ben C. Bender, republican nominee for county recorder, there was no demonstration at Goshen. A large crowd was gathered. The vice president was introduced by Senator Beardsley. At Warsaw a large crowd welcomed the vice president who spoke from the rear of the train.

School Children Hail Him.

In the delegation was a large delegation of school children who cheered for Mr. Fairbanks as the next president. The speech was made from the porch of the Williams home, the school children being massed in front. Governor Hanly and Mr. Griffiths sat on the porch during the speech of Mr. Fairbanks, who referred to the children and the excellent public school system of the state.

A short stop was made at North Manchester, where Mr. Fairbanks urged the election of Representative Fred Landis, who had joined the train at Wabash and was warmly greeted by the vice-president. Mr. Landis was given a great ovation at Peru and Logansport. The vice-presidential party was taken from Peru to Logansport. At Peru Mr. Fairbanks strongly urged the importance of the re-election of Mr. Landis.

At Kokomo the entire party was driven in automobiles to the speakers' stand. Representative Charles Landis presided and addressed the crowd after the train had left. Mr. Fairbanks here followed the same lines in his speech as those previously chosen.

LONDON MUNICIPAL REFORMERS WIN OUT

CARRY TRIENNIAL ELECTIONS BY OVERWHELMING MAJORITY.

Tremendous Victory in Some of the Boroughs Completely Wiped Out Progresssives.

London, Nov. 2.—The triennial elections of the London borough councils have resulted in an overwhelming victory for the municipal reformers, who in some of the boroughs absolutely wiped out the progessives. The victors were formerly known as moderates and represent the unionist party and the progressives include the liberal and labor parties. After several years of progressive regime, during which, it is contended, the taxes were increased to abnormal figures, in consequence of huge expenditures, including palatial workhouses, Turkish baths for workmen, who did not use them, and club houses and other similar municipal luxuries, the borough councils are once again great strongholds of toryism. The full figures are not yet available, but up to noon today the municipal reformers had won 610 seats, the progressives 222 and the labor and independent candidates 77 out of a total of 1,362.

The provincial municipal elections also have resulted in a rout for the liberals. The campaigns in the provinces were mostly conducted on political party lines. Incomplete results show that the liberals have sustained a net loss of 33 representatives and that the conservatives have a net gain of 59. The labor party has a net gain of 9.

In London the labor party candidates seem to have fared even worse than the progressive, but they made small gains in the provinces.

FACULTY AND STUDENTS UP.

Lexington Grand Jury Probing the Halloween Disturbances.

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 2.—Another arrest was made today in the cases against the state college students who are charged with assaulting patrolmen in a riot caused by Halloween pranks. It was that of Lewis Bigerstaff, who was identified by Patrolman Myers as one of his assailants.

The grand jury had the faculty and two hundred students before it today investigating a charge of confederating, which is felony offense. The mayor and police are making every effort to send the offenders to state prison if possible. Efforts are being made to identify and arrest over one hundred other young collegians.

ALLEGED SLAYER OF ACTRESS TAKEN

Leonard Leopold, Several Weeks a Fugitive, is Arrested.

ADMITS HIS IDENTITY

Captured in Wausau, Wis., He Says He Knows Nothing of Murder of Mrs. Leslie in Chicago.

Wausau, Wis., Nov. 2.—Leonard Leopold, who is wanted in connection with the murder of Mrs. Margaret Leslie, in Chicago, several weeks ago, was arrested in this city last night. He reached this city Tuesday night, having come from Mankato, Minn., and registered at the hotel Northern as "George Hanly," of Mantello, Minn. That night and Wednesday night he slept at the hotel, spending the evening on the west side of the city. Wednesday night he was caught putting slugs into a slot machine, and held in custody for a short time by a special officer, but was allowed to go.

Nothing is known of his movements during Thursday, but in the evening he was noticed to have been drinking, and in an ungarded moment told Police Commissioner Frank Heinrich that he was wanted somewhere for some crime. Mr. Heinrich told a policeman and a moment or two later Leopold was arrested. He was taken to the city hall and denied that he was Leopold.

Leopold's Own Narrative.

The chief of police threatened to bring his relatives to identify him and then Leopold said:

"I am Leopold and the man they are looking for."

He was searched and a miscellaneous lot of articles was found in his pockets. He had $1.26 in cash, an Elks' lodge pin, a railway ticket from Lake Crystal to Mankato, cigarette papers, a druggist's knife a scapula, a fountain pen and a bunch of keys. The most important thing found was a note book from which several pages had been torn. On the first of the remaining pages was a note addressed to C. A. Owen, Chicago, which reads: "This will introduce Mr. Warren, a good friend of mine. If you can help him out with some conductor you will do me a great favor."

The note was signed by Billy Dowd.

On the second page was a note addressed to Will Mann, signed "Nellie." This reads, "This man is a friend of mine. If you can square him out with some good conductor going out west, it will be appreciated by me."

Denies Connection With Murder.

Leopold strenuously denies any connection with the murder of Mrs. Leslie. He said that after the crime was committed, Nicholas came to him and asked him to dispose of some diamonds. To do this he went to a place on State street, but the pawn broker threatened to call an officer and, he said, "I got out and have been getting out ever since."

Leopold says that after leaving Chicago, he went to Iowa and then north to Minnesota, and thence to Wausau. While on a train in Iowa, the train was searched and a man sitting in a seat near him was arrested and taken from the train on suspicion of being Leopold. Owing to this incident he hurried out of the state.

The Chicago police have been notified of the arrest of Leopold and word has been received that a detective will be here some time today to take him to that city. It is not likely that he will make any fight to avoid being returned to Chicago.

Howard Nicholas, who was first arrested in connection with the murder of Mrs. Leslie, betrayed no concern when he was informed of the arrest of Leopold and was told that Leopold had said that he knew less about the actual murder than Nicholas.

Promises to Provide for His Family Pay Day—City Court.

At the conclusion of an airing of the family difficulties of Constantine McKinzie and his wife in the city court today Judge Skelton continued the case against him for failure to support his family until Nov. 19, when he will have a pay day. He promised to provide for his children at that time.

John Flynn, who asked to be arrested yesterday so he could sober up, was given a continuance until Monday morning.

Birdie Kelly, found drunk yesterday morning in an alley, was fined $1 and costs.

DIFFERENCES ADJUSTED.

At a conference between David Frosh, the East Main street merchant, and a committee from the various labor unions of the city yesterday morning, the differences between Mr. Frosh and Retail Clerks' union, No. 10, were satisfactorily adjusted. Mr. Frosh agrees to close his store at 6 o'clock on every evening except Saturday and the pickets which have been posted near his store have consequently been withdrawn by the union. Several other stores on Main and Barr streets signified their willingness to close if Mr. Frosh signed the agreement and the committee soon hopes to announce a thoroughly organized union city of Fort Wayne retail clothing clerks.

WILL BRING WOMAN BACK.

Detective Charles Lentz went to South Bend today to get Helen Eral, arrested there on the charge of stealing some clothing from Grace White.

THE REWARD OF IMMORTALITY

REV. J. F. M'CORRY PREACHES AT THE CATHEDRAL.

Brilliant Paulist's Sermon at Close of the Devotion of the Forty Hours.

With an imposing procession in which Rt. Rev. Bishop Alerding, the local clergy and many of the school children participated, altars radiant with flowers and lights, an eloquent discourse on "Heaven" by the gifted Paulist missionary, Rev. P. J. MacCorry, services marked by impressive solemnities, a special musical program excellently rendered and in the presence of a congregation that taxed the seating capacity of pews and altar steps, the devotion of the Forty Hours in progress at the Cathedral came to a close last evening.

At these services Rt. Rev. Bishop Alerding was celebrant, Rev. R. Paquet, deacon, Rev. William C. Miller, sub-deacon, Rev. Wm. D. Sullivan, master of ceremonies.

Taking for his text "And the city had no need of sun, nor moon to shine in it, for the glory of God hath enlightened it, and the Lamb is the Lamp thereof" (Apoc 21-23), Father MacCorry prefaced his sermon with the consideration of the reward of immortality, the hope of which says St. Paul, "is laid up for us in heaven." "The mind reasons it," shid the speaker, "the heart craves it, the soul strains on its fetters for its fruition."

The development of the second text, "Notwithstanding, rejoice not so much that the spirits are subject to you, but rather that your names are recorded in the household of the saints," was one that leads man from hope to certitude, from doubt to assurance. With characteristic eloquence of diction, beauty of style and depth of thought, the speaker demonstrated that man should rejoice not so much in his progress, wealth and talents, but that he was a child of God, an heir of heaven, that his name was recorded in the household of saints. With powerful climaxes and an earnestness and fervor that appealed to all, his third text, "Eye hath not seen, earth hath not heard, nor hath it entered into the mind of man to conceive," the glories that God hath prepared for those that love Him. Father MacCorry painted a graphic and beautiful picture of the joys of paradise. A touching appeal for greater activity on the part of the faithful in the work of assisting others in saving their souls, was the finale of an evening's discourse that merited the closest attention of the many attending.

Feast of All Souls Celebrated.

This morning the Feast of All Souls was celebrated with marked solemnity in all of the local Catholic churches. At the Cathedral Rt. Rev. Bishop Alerding celebrated pontifical requiem high mass at 9 o'clock. Rev. P. F. Roche was assistant priest, Rev. Wm. Sullivan, deacon, Rev. Wm. C. Miller, sub-deacon, Rev. Frederick Schalk and Rev. Thomas Elsenring, two local Sanguinist fathers, deacons of honor, Rev. S. M. Yenn, master of ceremonies. The sermon was delivered by Rev. P. J. MacCorry, who took for his text "It is a holy and wholesome thought to pray for the dead." Father MacCorry left at noon for Chicago and on Sunday will open the devotion of the Forty Hours at Logansport.

HIGH COURT SETS A VERDICT ASIDE

BASTON WESTON, CONVICTED AT HUNTINGTON, WINS CASE.

Supreme Court Says Hack Driver Who Struck Decatur Man May Have Been Justified.

Indianapolis, Nov. 2.—The conviction of Baston Weston, a hack driver at Huntington, Ind., of manslaughter for striking a passenger with his fist and knocking him against the sidewalk so as to kill him, was reversed by the supreme court today. The man he killed was one of a party of six who came from Decatur to attend a lodge banquet, where intoxicating liquor was served.

They paid only half the fare that the hack driver demanded for taking them to the station after the banquet, and after a dispute one of them stepped toward him, threatening, Weston says, "to knock his head off." The trial court gave an instruction that Weston could not justify striking the man unless he "was in imminent danger of losing his life at the hands of the deceased."

The supreme court says that he might have been justified in striking by apparent danger, which frightened him, as well as by actual danger.

Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 2.—The rule of the road to "Keep to the right" was affirmed by the supreme court Friday in the Toledo case of Harvey P. Platt vs. the City of Toledo. Platt in driving across the Cherry street bridge not only took the left side but refused to get in line when the bridge officer ordered him to do so. He was arrested and fined. He will now have to pay it.

BEVERIDGE LAUDS PARTY'S HISTORY

Senator Marks Out Further Reform Program for Republicans.

PLEA FOR PROGRESS

Eloquent Indiana Leader Was Warmly Applauded by Vast Fort Wayne Audience.

Extolling the lofty heights, the history and achievements of the republican party, and marking out for it a program of further reform in the event of continued success at the polls, Senator Albert J. Beveridge raised his eloquent voice at Princess rink Thursday evening in the most important republican address delivered in the Twelfth district during the present campaign.

Senator Beveridge saw reason for present prosperity in the fact that the republican party had been entrusted with power. He pointed to the railroad rate measure, the pure food laws and the efforts at curbing the trusts as examples of reform legislation enacted by the republican party, and declared this a period when the American people are writing their consciences into the statute books. He held out for the future promise of control of centralized wealth, a child labor law and other reforms, lauded President Roosevelt as the ideal American statesman, and paid a lofty tribute to Mr. Bryan's personality, his bravery, sincerity and ability, but declared him simply wrong. It was a splendid audience, thoroughly in sympathy with Mr. Beveridge, and the applause was frequent and unstinted. The big auditorium was completely filled and the audience had been supplied with several hundred small American flags. These were waved in unison all over the big audience again and again in voicing approval of some sentiment of the speaker, and the spectacle was a pretty one.

Mr. Gilhams Also Spoke.

Prior to the arrival of Senator Beveridge, the temporary chairman, C. S. Bash, presented Hon. C. C. Gilhams, the republican congressional nominee, who addressed the audience for some time, but was compelled to bring his effort to a rather hurried close as the senator, escorted by a large delegation of young republicans wearing silk ties, reached the rink.

There was tremendous applause as Senator Beveridge came into view upon the stage, following Judge Walter Olds, who had been chosen to preside at the meeting. As soon as the demonstration closed, Judge Olds presented Senator Beveridge in a brief address in which he commended popular interest in public questions and declared there should be no "off years" in campaigns—that issues were always of sufficient importance to enlist the active interest of patriotic Americans, and paid a graceful tribute to the distinguished guest of the evening.

Senator Beveridge Speaks.

"After all, there is no country like America," was Senator Beveridge's opening sentence, and it was the signal for the first outburst of applause which he evoked at intervals in the course of his ninety-minute address.

GEORGE HERRING DIES IN LONDON

WAS NOTED IN GREAT BRITAIN AS A PHILANTHROPIST.

Recently Donated Half a Million Dollars to Aid Salvation Army Colonization Scheme.

London, Nov. 2.—George Herring, the noted English philanthropist, who in the course of his life contributed large sums of money to hospitals and charitable enterprises, died today after an operation for appendicitis. He made his first money on the race courses and subsequently became identified with a number of large businesses.

George Herring was chairman of the city of London Electric Lighting company, Electric and General Investment company, Municipal Trust company and several mining companies. In December last he donated $500,000 to the Salvation Army for use in a home colonization scheme, the army engaging to repay this sum in twenty-five annual installments, to the Kings hospital fund. The plan was to purchase tracts of land in England, giving five acres or thereabouts to each settler, building cottages, providing seed, implements and supporting the settlers until the lands became productive. Each settler was to repay the army in installments. In this manner the Salvation Army hoped to provide for those who for various reasons were unable to leave England under emigration schemes of the army.

Herring conducted a soup kitchen in Camdentown, London, built and endowed an institution known as the Haven of Rest for gentle folk brought to poverty through genuine misfortune and furnished a number of Salvation Army shelters for the homeless.

Mr. and Mrs. Jael Hall, of Warsaw, parents of Mrs. G. F. Byrer, are her guests.

BOARD PREPARES FOR INSPECTORS

BALLOTS MUST BE CALLED FOR ON SATURDAY.

Law Makes It Imperative and Clerk Will Be Ready—General Political News.

By tonight the county board of elections will have prepared for delivery to the inspectors the county and state ballots for the election to be held next Tuesday and it is earnestly desired to impress upon all inspectors that the law makes it imperative that they shall get the packages tomorrow.

The work of preparation consumed the greater part of two days as it became necessary to count the number of ballots in each precinct and to wrap and seal them before delivery. More work was necessitated by the electric light ballots which were delivered to the board this afternoon by City Attorney Guy Colerick and City Clerk Frank Mungovan.

Another thing the board desires to call the attention of inspectors to is that the tally sheets and ballots must be returned to the clerk of the circuit court at the clerk's office immediately after the count is completed. The clerk will hold his office open all night to receive them.

The democratic meeting held at Arcola last night drew a big audience and there was the most encouraging enthusiasm among those who attended. Judge Edward O'Rourke, Judge S. M. Hench and Albert E. Thomas were the speakers of the evening and each of them was given the most flattering attention throughout the discourses, which were confined to local campaign issues.

The democratic meeting at the Wabash shops at noon today was the signal for a goodly gathering of the employes, who heard the candidates for the various offices. In comunon with the other shop meetings, that of today gave every evidence of the interest of the workingmen in the campaign, as the candidates were all accorded close attention.

ONLY LIGHTING OF CITY AT THE START

Municipal Plant Will Not Undertake to Do Commercial Business.

THAT TO COME LATER

Mayor Hosey Outlines Scope of What is to Be Done if People Vote for City Ownership.

In a statement to The Sentinel today for the benefit of the voters who will be called upon next Tuesday to vote on the proposition to erect a municipal lighting plant Mayor William J. Hosey said that it is expected at first to erect a power station capable of supplying from 500 to 600 arc lights for the streets and all of the incandescents necessary to light the city hall, eight fire stations, the public library and all of the city school buildings.

An engineer will be employed to work out the smaller details, but the intention now in event the measure carries is to erect the plant at No. 1 pumping station in order to combine the labor and power of both departments and reduce the cost of operation. The entire plant is to be constructed so that additions can be made from time to time.

No Commercial Lighting at Outset.

From the outset there will be no effort to do commercial lighting, but it is proposed to take this up in the future as funds become available out of the levy that is now being made. The city now has 382 street lights for which the annual appropriation is $28,500.

In the electric light fund according to the last report filed by City Comptroller A. M. Schmidt there is $130,304.63, to which will be added in a short time $10,000 from the fall tax payment. It is estimated that a year will be necessary for the completion of the task and at the end of that time $20,000 to be collected in 1907 can be had.

All the work of construction will be in the hands of the board of public works which will employ a civil engineer to make plans and will advertise for bids for all of the labor and material to be used in construction.

FOUND 12 YEAR OLD BOY HANGING DEAD

DEATH THOUGHT TO HAVE BEEN DUE TO ACCIDENT.

Columbia City Shocked by Discovery of Young Homer Knisely's Body in Barn.

(Special to The Sentinel.)

Columbia City, Ind., Nov. 2.—Homer Knisely, aged 12 years, was found dead today in his father's barn, hanging by the neck to a rope attached to a beam. It is not thought that the hanging was a suicide as the family state that the boy was not despondent and apparently had no troubles. He had been to see his uncle the night before and appeared to be enjoying himself at that time. It is probable that the boy was experimenting with the rope, which had been hanging there for some time and that he accidentally became entangled in it. The rope swings close to a manger and it may be possible that he was swinging from this to the other side of the barn.

Solid Bread

We have ceased to worry about the appearance of our loaf of Perfection Bread in regard to size. We give good bread—that's the first consideration. We give good weight—that's sufficient.

It's a fallacy to think that people rather have bread puffed full of wind, just for the satisfaction of thinking they are getting a big loaf. PERFECTION BREAD is raised just enough to make it cut and spread without crumbling. It makes a fresh, sweet, fine grain article of food—and at less expense, too. Then you can bake your own bread. If you have been baking, give Perfection Bread a trial. Look for the label, "Perfection." Sold by all dealers.

WIFE FEARS HER HUSBAND'S ANGER

MRS. MARVIN APPEALS TO THE COURT FOR PROTECTION.

Surety of the Peace Proceedings are Placed on File—General News of the Courts.

Mrs. Arrilla Marvin has filed surety of the peace proceedings in Justice Tancey's court against her husband, William H. Marvin, and a warrant has been placed in the hands of the sheriff for service.

Several days ago Mrs. Marvin began an action in the superior court for divorce and she states in her affidavit that she fears he will do her bodily harm as a result of her efforts to secure a separation from him.

Bought a Cigar.

Burrillas Gaskill, proprietor of the "Bootjack" saloon, was in Justice Tancey's court today on an affidavit charging him with allowing minors to loiter in his place and the case was dismissed. Mrs. Anna Hake filed the affidavit and it was shown that her son, Clarence Hake, entered the place on Sunday and bought a cigar. An affidavit charging Sabbath desecration was then filed, but Gaskill was acquitted.

CONSOLIDATION EXPECTED.

Merger of Important Connecticut Interests Has Been Pending.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 2.—The transfer of the control of the Connecticut Railway and Lighting company from the promoters, the United Gas Improvement company of Philadelphia, to the Consolidated Railway company, the holding company in this state of the electric properties of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad, reported from Waterbury yesterday, has been expected for some time.

President Mellen, of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad company, is in New York and if the control of the Connecticut Railway and Lighting company was transferred yesterday, an official announcement may be expected soon, as his reply to a query a few days ago was to the effect that such a transfer was probable.

In railroad circles in this city it is believed that the Connecticut Railway and Lighting company had been leased for a long term of years under guarantees as to stock and bonds and that there has been no purchase outright.

The United Gas Improvement company has set a price for the property, which was considered to be too great by President Mellen, and although for a year he has been anxious to secure it, it is understood that early in the past summer the offer to purchase was withdrawn.

The plan of the lease, which has many ramifications and will comprehend an immense transfer of electric properties to the New Haven road, was broached some weeks ago and was received with favor by the directors of the United Gas Improvement company.

Yesterday afternoon it was stated in railroad circles that an announcement of the transfer of the Connecticut Railway and Lighting company might be expected to be made right after election.

MURDERED AND ROBBED.

Body of Aged Sales Agent Found in Field Near Pittsburg.

Pittsburg, Nov. 2.—The body of A. J. McMillan, 65 years of age, a manufacturer's agent, said to be quite wealthy, was found today in a field near his home. That he had been robbed and murdered was evident, as his head was crushed and his pockets rifled of everything they had contained. His gold watch as well as several diamonds he wore were also missing.

McMillan is believed to have had a large sum of money with him last night, as he had just returned from a collecting tour through Cambria and Somerset counties. His empty wallet was found about one hundred feet from the body. An examination of the body indicates that death was not due to the blows received, but either to exposure after he was struck unconscious or to apoplexy caused by the excitement of the attack.

KILLED BY A TRAIN.

Ashtabula, Ohio, Nov. 2.—A switch engine on the Jefferson and Franklin branch of the Lake Shore road today ran down and killed Henry Starkweather, a prominent contractor. H. G. Pullman, the business partner of Starkweather, was terribly crushed by the engine and will probably die.

The accident occurred at the Main street crossing where Pullman and Starkweather were superintending the work of paving the street. They failed to notice the approach of the engine.

New Lisbon is the headquarters of a number of railroad employes who made an attempt to lynch the man before he was taken out of the village.

Prompt attention by the authorities in rushing the prisoner to Mauston saved him for the time being, but open attempts are being made to organize a mob to proceed to Mauston tonight and attempt to lynch the prisoner.

KEEP CARPETS CLEAN.

The usefulness of a rug or carpet depends almost entirely upon the housekeeper and how she cleans it, for it's the dust that gets into the weave and wears out the threads and incidentally that dulls the colors and makes the floor covering grow old. A sweeper should be run over a carpet or rug every day to take off the loose dirt, and once a week a thorough sweeping is necessary to brush out the grit and dust from the nap of a velvet or Wilton, or from the close weave of a body Brussels or an ingrain.

Mr. Hughes addressed a large meeting at Schenectady this forenoon and then started for Catskill, where he was scheduled to speak this afternoon. He will reach New York about 6 o'clock and will devote the evening to a series of meetings in New York city.

Hearst's Voice Nearly Gone.

Mr. Hearst spent rather a quiet day on account of the serious condition of his throat as the result of the many speeches he has delivered during the past few days. He expects to go on the platform again tonight, however, and is scheduled to address meetings in Kings county.

The republican state committee will today begin to send out through the mails a small pamphlet containing extracts from the speech of Secretary of State Elihu Root, delivered at Utica last night. Approximately 800,000 copies will be started through the mails today.

HUGHES LAST DAY UP STATE.

Republican Candidate Talks to the Workingmen.

Schenectady, N. Y., Nov. 2.—During a stay of two and a half hours here today, Charles E. Hughes held a reception and spoke at three meetings.

At two meetings practically all of Mr. Hughes' hearers were mechanics and skilled workers. Almost his entire speech at both places was made up of comments upon the labor and industrial situation. Mr. Hughes dwelt at length upon the prosperity that is prevailing in the state and nation, but he declared that all this could be "torn down in a night if business confidence should be shaken." He told his hearers that the workers would be the first to feel the effects of a false step and he urged them to think well before casting their votes on Tuesday next. Mr. Hughes declared that more than one hundred laws relating to labor had been placed upon the statute books of the state during the past twelve years. He promises that he would see to it that they are enforced.

"If I am elected governor," he declared, "I shall see to it that my administration is an economical one, but no money will be spared to see that every law is carried out. No statute shall want enforcement for the lack of a man or the lack of a dollar to enforce it."

This is the last day of Mr. Hughes' up state campaign. Commenting upon the conditions he said today:

"The conditions up state are very satisfactory. The republicans are loyal and alert and throughout the state we have the support of the old line democrats.

"It is simply now a question of getting out the vote. If that is done, victory is achieved. But the danger of over-confidence is ever great and no one at this time must relax his individual effort."

CARRIER GETS PROMOTION.

Postmaster R. B. Hanna received a communication from Washington this morning to the effect that Ernest G. Stubnatzy, one of the carriers on his force, has been advanced from the $600 class to a salary of $850 a year.

NOTES OF THE DAY.

An idea of the immensity of the new Cunarder Mauretania may be gathered from the length of her cable. This is about 1,000 feet long, and weighs with its shackles, 130 tons.

It is now the custom in New York city, with few exceptions, for girls to attend the public schools without wearing hats. On pleasant days there is only one hat to about twenty girls.

California rejoices in a law making the circulation of fraudulent reports regarding the value of stock of a corporation formed in the state a felony punishable by two years' imprisonment or $5,000 fine, or both.

The body of George Penn, a London dog fancier, was followed to the grave by four fine bull terriers. They wore black coats, on which were the words in white letters: "Following our master to his last resting place."

The receipts of the French tobacco monopoly in August were $200,000 above the average. The cause of this is said to be the closing of the schools for the holidays—when the schoolboys were free and could smoke cigarettes.

A Paris newspaper is the organ for beggars. One of the advertisements of business opportunities offers "good situation in a very popular winter resort for a one-armed man or preferably man with no arms. References given and required. Cash deposit also required."

FROUDE'S "INACCURACY."

(Success Magazine.)

What competent critic today doubts the general trustworthiness of Froude's "History of England," in writing which he was obliged to transcribe from Spanish masses of papers which even a Spaniard would have read with difficulty? Yet what sweeping charges of inaccuracy were long made against him! Writing in 1870, to a friend, the historian says: "I acknowledge to five real mistakes in the whole book—twelve volumes—about twenty trifling slips, equivalent to 'i's' not dotted and 't's' not crossed; and that is all that the utmost malignity has discovered. Every one of these rascals has made a dozen blunders of his own, while detecting one of mine."

Happiness in a Tablet

Perfect Health for Every One Procured at Small Cost.

How many times have you sat down at your meals absolutely disgusted at the thought or sight of anything to eat?

How many times have you sat down at your meals without the trace of an appetite, but just because it was "time to eat?"

How many times have you felt a gnawing, unsatisfied "still-hungry" feeling in your stomach, even after you were through eating?

How many times have you felt that "lump of lead" on your stomach after eating, whether your meal was well cooked or not?

And how many times have you suffered a whole lot of other things from your stomach that you couldn't explain, but that made you grouchy, miserable, out-o'-sorts and generally sour on everybody and everything?

It is safe to say you couldn't tell. You don't keep track of those things, of course, but you know you've suffered them. You probably have had them for so long that they've become a habit with you, and you have come to the conclusion that your fate is to suffer them indefinitely and perhaps forever.

And so men, much like horses, standing unhitched at the hitching post, think they're tied, and so their habit makes them prisoners.

But no one need have dyspepsia, nor indigestion, nor loss of appetite, brash, irritation, burning sensations, heartburn, nausea, eructations, bad memory, loss of vim and vigor and the happiness that comes from a hearty stomach and a good appetite if he will only leave his old hitching post and tie himself to a new one, one that will hold him to health, joy, ambition and a clear mind and memory, and the sunshine that goes with them.

That indeed is heaven! And you can get it in a little tablet already prepared for the purpose, in Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, those little cherubs of health and delight found in thousands of homes today. Listen—one ingredient of one of these precious little tablets will digest for you 3,000 grains of food.

This relieves your stomach of the work of digesting until your stomach can get strong and healthy again. Your stomach has been overworked and abused It's fagged out. It needs a rest.

Let Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets do the work of your stomach. You will be surprised how fine you'll feel after eating, and how lusciously good everything will taste to you. That's because the Tablets are thoroughly digesting the food which your stomach couldn't digest before.

Have these tablets on your dining table, and take one or two after every meal without fail. Then you will realize as never before that the human stomach decides for every man whether he will go forward or backward—and besides, you'll forget you ever had a stomach to torment you.

MEYER BROTHERS CO.

SECRETARY ROOT SCORES HEARST

Roosevelt's Premier Goes to Utica to Speak the Word of His Chief.

WORDS WERE BITTER

Denounces Hearst as Inspirer of the Killing of McKinley—Roosevelt Ardent for Hughes.

Utica, N. Y., Nov. 2.—Secretary of State Elihu Root, acting avowedly as spokesman for President Roosevelt, last night cast the powerful influence of the national administration into the New York campaign in a speech bitterly denouncing William R. Hearst and asking the support of voters for Charles E. Hughes. Mr. Root, in the calm eloquence of which he is a master, belabored the democratic nominee for governor in stinging fashion, calling him a menace to the national welfare, a demagogue teaching terrorism and one "not guiltless of the assassination of President McKinley."

Twice during the delivery of the speech the secretary was interrupted by persons in the audience, and the great crowd was in an uproar. One of these interruptions came when Secretary Root declared Mr. Hearst had been elected to congress to serve the American people, but had failed to do so.

Cry of Insult From Critic.

"That's a lie," shouted a man in the balcony. At once there was a cry of "Put him out," but Mr. Root held up his hand for silence and said, "Let him remain," and went on with his speech.

The second interruption came when Secretary Root referred to the assassination of President McKinley.

"McKinley's dead, why should you bring him into this?" cried a man. Again there was tumult, and several policemen started to eject the man. Secretary Root asked that he be let alone, whereupon the man voluntarily left the place.

When the secretary had concluded some one in the galleries called out, "Who'll be the next president?" There was a response of "Root!"

Secretary Root and Mr. Hughes, speaking from the same platform in the Majestic theater, addressed one of the largest and most demonstrative meetings of the campaign. The fact that this is Mr. Root's home county added much to the interest of the occasion. Three thousand persons crowded the building to its extreme limits within twenty minutes after the doors had been opened at 7 o'clock. More than 1,500 others who arrived at the theater before 8 o'clock found all the doors barred and guarded by policemen and firemen. A thousand of them soon filled the Maennerchor hall, where an overflow meeting was organized, Mr. Hughes speaking at both places.

Root's Speech Scathing.

Secretary Root's speech was divided into two parts. In his denunciation of Hearst he said:

"What evidence has Mr. Hearst produced of his fitness for this office?

"Of his private life I shall not speak, further than to say that from no community in this state does there come concerning him that testimony of life-long neighbors and acquaintances of his private virtues, the excellence of his morals, the correctness of his conduct, which we should like to have concerning the man who is to be made governor of our state.

"What evidence comes from his public career? He has been a member of congress from New York city. He owed his office to Tammany organization and Tammany votes. He represented a Tammany district, but he has been an absolute cipher in congress. That is his entire public career.

What Is Known of Him.

"He really is known to us solely as a young man, rich by inheritance, who has become the owner of a number of sensational, yellow journals; he has taken in his newspapers the popular side upon all questions relating to labor and corporations and has sustained it by violent denunciation and many falsehoods. He has been a persistent seeker for office on the strength of taking the popular side. He has published whatever he thought would please the working people for the purpose of getting the labor vote. It is difficult to believe the hard headed, shrewd workingmen of America will give him much credit for that.

Proof of His Unfitness.

"There is, however, affirmative evidence of Hearst's unfitness for the great office of governor. You will perceive that to remedy corporate wrongs, for which he offers himself, two things are necessary—first, intelligent, well devised legislation, which shall strip from the wrongdoing of corporate managers the advantage of laws made under their influence to facilitate their practices, which shall clearly prohibit their wrongful acts and which shall provide the machinery and procedure and necessary agencies for enforcing those laws. Secondly, the judicial enforcement of laws, which require upright and courageous judges who will administer the laws without fear or favor, uninfluenced by wealth, or by popularity, or by personal friends, or by political bosses.

"Underlying both of these and necessary to both is political purity, for without that neither legislature nor the courts can be pure.

Marked With Tammany's Brand.

"How stands Mr. Hearst's record as to political purity? Why, he comes to us covered all over with the mark of Tammany and Tammany's leader, Murphy, whom he himself has denounced as a scoundrel and a thief. He comes to us, not answering to the call of the people of the state, not as the honest candidate of the democratic party of the state, but nominated by his own procurement, through as shameful a deal with the boss of Tammany as ever disgraced the political history of the state—a deal under which the great body of regularly elected delegates to the democratic convention was unseated in their absence and the nomination of Mr. Hearst made by the solid vote of the Tammany delegation.

"Can hypocrisy go further than this willing beneficiary of Tammany Hall preaching political purity?

Is a Cipher in Congress.

"How stands his record as legislator? He has had an opportunity to prove his capacity and sincerity in that field. Representatives are sent to congress to attend the business of the country. There are hundreds of members of both parties working upon that every day of every session in the performance of their duty. The interests of the country cannot be cared for in any other way. Mr. Hearst was sent to congress to do that. He had an opportunity then to show how much sincerity there was in all the talk in his newspapers about reforms and better government.

"What did he do? Why, he did nothing. During the three years he has been in congress that body has been in session 467 days. There have been 185 recorded votes by yea and nay. He was present and voting at but twenty-three, present without voting at two, leaving 160 of 185 roll calls from which he was absent, and 442 out of 467 days of the legislative session when there is no evidence of his presence.

"His voice was heard in that congress in those three years but once, that for ten minutes in a personal matter regarding an article published in the New York American. He did not even contribute a motion to adjourn to the business in congress.

Took Money He Didn't Earn.

"He is so rich that the $15,000 paid him for that neglected service may seem of no consequence, but no honest poor man would have thought it right to take it. Others doubtless did the work Mr. Hearst was sent to Washington to do, but it is of public interest to know that this man, who offers himself for a great public office on the strength of what he printed in his newspaper about legislative reforms and the duties of others, totally failed to perform his own duty and proved a worthless public servant in a legislative office—the only office he ever held.

Hearst Betrays the Judiciary.

"How does he stand regarding the courts? There, indeed, if he is to be taken at his own estimate, he should be found inflexible. An independent judiciary should be his dearest hope. As to that he has had great opportunity, for this is an exceptional year in judicial elections. Ten new justices of the supreme court are to be elected in the city of New York. How has he used his new political power concerning them? Why, he has made another bargain with Murphy, under which Murphy has named six of them, while Hearst has named only four.

"Six justices of the supreme court named by Charles F. Murphy, the boss of Tammany hall, by agreement with William R. Hearst, the self-declared reformer! If he thus delivers the power over courts to the man whom he declares to be a thief and a scoundrel for the sake of getting votes for the governorship, what would he, as governor, do for the sake of getting votes for the presidency?

Hearst a Corporation Himself.

"His own corporate management shows the insincerity of his professions. Not only does he conduct his extensive newspaper business through corporations but he has established separate corporations for his separate newspapers and then established a holding corporation to hold the stock of these separate corporations. Mr. Hughes has plainly shown that he has juggled with these different incorporations to escape his just share of public taxation and to hinder and defeat the prosecution of just claims against him.

"It is seldom, indeed, a man so young, whose public career has been so brief, so small a portion of whose life is known at all to the public, has furnished such convincing proofs of his unfitness for office.

An Apostle of Hatred.

"But the worst of Hearst is that, with his great wealth, with his great newspapers, with his army of paid agents, and for his own selfish purposes, he has been, day by day and year by year, sowing the seed of dissension, strife, and hatred throughout our land. He would array labor against capital and capital against labor, poverty against wealth and wealth against poverty, with bitter vindictive feeling. He would destroy among the great mass of our people that kindly, friendly spirit, that consideration of the interests and rights of others, that brotherhood of citizenship, which is so essential to the peaceful conduct of a free popular government. He would destroy that respect for law, that love of order, that confidence in our free institutions, which are the basis at once of true freedom and true justice.

Poisons the Alien Mind.

"The malignant falsehoods of these journals, read by the immigrant in his new home, where none can answer them, making him hate the people who have welcomed him to liberty and prosperity, abundant employment, ample wages, education for his children, independence for his manhood such as he never had known before.

"It is not calm, lawful redress of wrongs which he seeks. It is the turmoil of inflamed passions and the terrorism of revengeful force. He spreads his spirit, he follows the methods, he is guided by the selfish motives of a revolutionist. He would plunge our peaceful land into turmoil, discord, and perpetual conflict out of which the republics of South America happily are now passing.

Vile Assailant of Honor.

"Does any one question the justice of these statements? Then let him turn to the pages of the newspapers through the ownership of which Hearst is pressing his political fortunes.

"What public servant honored by the people's trust has he not assailed with vile and vulgar epithets? What branch of our free government has he not taught his readers to be the corrupt agency of oppression"

Secretary Root then proceeded to recount a long list of public men whom Hearst had attacked in his newspapers, quoting the expressions used in denunciation. This list included the late President McKinley, President Roosevelt, Vice-President Fairbanks, Former President Cleveland, Hon. Joseph H. Choate, former ambassador to Great Britain; Former United States Senator Charles A. Towns, Hon. Edward M. Shepard, Hon. W. T. Jerome, Congressman John Sharp Williams, Speaker Cannon, Mayor McClellan, the late Speaker Thomas B. Reed, the late Secretary of State John Hay, Hon. Alton B. Parker, Secretary of the Navy Bonaparte, National Democratic Chairman Thomas Taggart, and several others. Continuing Mr. Root said:

Invited McKinley's Murder.

"Only once has this method of incendiary abuse wrought out its natural consequences—in the murder of President McKinley. For years, by vile epithet and viler cartoons, the readers of the New York Journal were taught to believe that McKinley was a monster in human form, whose taking off would be a service to mankind. Let me quote some of these teachings:

McKinley condones the treacherous murder of our sailors at Havana and talks of his confidence in the honor of Spain. He plays the coward and shivers, white-faced, at the footfall of approaching war. He makes an international czar of his country. He is an abject, weak, futile, incompetent poltroon.

McKinley, bar one girthy Princeton person who came to be no more or less than a living, breathing crime in breeches, is therefore the most despised and hated creature on this hemisphere. His name is hooted, his gure burned in effigy.

The bullet that pierced Goebel's chest
Cannot be found in all the west:
Good reason, it is speeding here
To stretch McKinley on his bier.

Hearst Urges Assassination.

"And this in April, 1901:

Institutions, like men, will last until they die. If bad institutions and bad men can be got rid of only by killing, then killing must be done.

When the body becomes run down, either as a result of overwork, worry or a severe illness, an examination of the blood would show it to be weak and watery. This condition is called anaemic, which is the medical term for "bloodless." The common symptoms are paleness of the lips, gums and cheeks, shortness of breath and palpitation of the heart after the slightest exertion, dull eyes and loss of appetite. Anaemia itself is a dangerous disease and it may gradually pass into consumption. It must be cured by treating its cause, which is the poor condition of the blood. The vital fluid must be made strong and healthy, thereby enabling it to carry the necessary nourishment to every tissue of the body.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the greatest builder of rich, new blood and they have been curing anaemia and other blood diseases for nearly a generation, during which time they have come to be recognized as an invaluable household remedy.

Mr. Louis L. Clark, a painter, of 19 Lincoln Place, Plainfield, N. J., says: "Last May I was obliged to undergo an operation for appendicitis and while the operation in itself was successful, I did not recover my strength and health. I was confined to my bed for over a month and was under the doctor's care. When I was able to get up my legs were so weak and unsteady that I could only walk with a cane with difficulty. My stomach was very weak and my appetite poor and I was not getting proper nourishment. My heart was very irregular.

"I was getting no better and could not think of going back to work. I was discouraged, when a neighbor told me that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills had cured her and advised me to try them. I began taking them about the middle of June and soon felt so much better that I kept on until now I am entirely cured."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a never-failing blood builder. They have cured diseases due to impure or watery blood that have baffled the best medical skill. They are able to do this, because they contain the elements necessary to make new and pure blood. Rheumatism, chlorosis, after-effects of the grip and fevers, are some of the blood diseases cured by these pills and, as the health of the nerves depends upon the purity of the blood, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are useful in such nerve diseases as neuralgia, nervous debility, sleeplessness, dizziness and even locomotor ataxia.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists or will be sent postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

NO SOCIETY

What can be more pitiful than a young girl whose mind should be filled with the joy and happiness of life, but driven from the society of friends and acquaintances through the affliction of skin or blood disease, to possess features disfigured by pimples, black-heads and sores?

Many a young woman would be glad to confine herself to the seclusion of her room, who is thus afflicted, if her position in life would permit it. Thoroughly ashamed of her appearance, constantly irritated by the suggestions and remarks of her friends and acquaintances, she is entirely at their mercy and compelled to submit to these humiliating expressions continually. Sometimes a person thus situated becomes hardened and calloused to this thing and without knowing it, becomes embittered in mind, and loses all the joys and happiness that life holds for them. These conditions can be readily overcome if properly attended to.

Skin diseases are the result of impurities in the blood not being properly expelled through the pores of the body, as Nature intended them, and one of the best remedies for afflictions of this character is that handed down by the Quakers or Friends, Herb Extract, a blood purifier made from herbs, roots, barks, berries, leaves and blossoms, and which for years has been sold in all drug stores. Pure, healthy blood will expel all impurities from the system in the natural way.

Too much attention has been given to external application, soaps and salves, which at the best can afford but temporary relief.

This medicine has proven all claims made for it by the great Dunn. Quaker Herb Extract is for sale by your local druggists.

"And this in June, 1901:

There has been much assassination in the world, from the assassination of some old rulers who needed assassination to the assassination of men in England who, driven to steal by hunger, were caught and hanged most legally.

Is there any doubt that the assassination of Marat by Charlotte Corday changed history to some extent? What proof is there that France would have settled down into imperial Napoleonism and prosperity if Marat, the wonderful eye doctor, had been allowed to live and retain his absolute mastery of the Paris populace?

In Defense of Assassin.

If Cromwell had not resolved to remove the head of Charles I. from his lace collar would England be what she is today—a really free nation, a genuine republic?

Did not the murder of Lincoln, uniting in sympathy and regret all good people north and south, hasten the era of American good feeling and perhaps prevent the renewal of fighting between brothers?

The murder of Caesar certainly changed the history of Europe, besides preventing that great man from ultimately displaying a vanity as great as his ability.

When the wise old sayings, such as that of Disreali about assassination, are taken up it is worth while, instead of swallowing them whole, to analyze them. We invite our readers to think over this question. Time devoted to it will not be wasted.

Hearst Urges Czolgosz Acts.

What wonder that the weak, excitable brain of Czolgosz answered such impulses as these. He never knew McKinley; he had no real or fancied wrongs of his own to avenge against McKinley, or McKinley's government. He was answering to the lesson he had learned, that it would be a service to mankind to rid the earth of a monster: and foremost of the teachers of these lessons to him and his kind was, and is, William Randolph Hearst with his yellow journals.

Hearst's Sickening Hyprocisy.

The offense was deepened by Hearst's revolting hypocrisy, which to avert public indignation when the fatal blow had been struck, and that strong, gentle spirit had departed, lauded the dead president to the skies and said of him in the New York Journal:

Nowhere in the history of great men's lives or great men's deaths can be found such resignation, such deep religious faith as marked the last hours of William McKinley. He faced the other world and the other life with the quiet, confident hope of a man who had done his best. Slowly his heart's strength died out. It had carried him through two wars, through many political battles, through many long days of toil, through many years of hard work of serious purpose. He began life as a simple christian citizen. He worked hard. He interested himself in his country's welfare. He succeeded. He reached the highest place in the nation. He exercised and represented the greatest earthly powers. He was called a second time to the highest position that man can give to any man. He ended his life as he began it—a simple christian citizen.

Can This Man Go Unpunished?

"Is there no one left who loved McKinley?

"Are there no workingmen left in New York who cannot see with satisfaction honors heaped upon the man who is not guiltless of McKinley's death?

"The same kind of teaching is being continued now, month by month, day by day, in Hearst's journals. Its legitimate consequence, if continued, must be in other weak dupes playing the role of Czolgosz; other McKinleys stretched upon the bier; discord and bloody strife in place of the reign of peace and order throughout our fair land. It is not the spirit of Washington or Lincoln; it is a spirit of malice for all, charity towards none; its is the spirit of anarchy, communism, Kishenef and Bialstok.

State Pride Appealed To.

"Men of New York, do you love your country? Are you not proud of your country? Are not its liberty, its justice, its equal laws, the best that weak, erring men have ever yet attained in this world?

"Have not those of you who have come to us from other lands found better conditions of life, better employment, better wages, greater personal independence and dignity, better opportunities for your children, than ever before? Do you wish to join your voices to that which declares this freest republic, this foremost result of government by the people, to be all vile and rotten and disgraceful?

"The public knows the character of Mr. Hearst only by the newspapers he publishes. God forbid we should set up in the high station of governor of New York, for the admiration and imitation of our children, a man whose character is reflected in the columns of the New York Journal and the New York American.

What a Hearst Victory Means.

"The immediate and necessary effect of Hearst's election would be to deprive the president of the moral support of the state of New York; it would be to strengthen the president's enemies and opponents and to weaken and embarrass him in the pursuit of his policy.

"The election of this violent extremist would inevitably lead to reaction against all true reform and genuine redress of grievances. There is no enemy of true reform so fatal as sham reform; there is no enemy of the sincere, faithful public servant, who is seeking by patient and well directed effort to frame and enforce just laws, like the selfish agitator who is seeking his own advancement; there is no ally of unscrupulous wealth so potent as the violent extremist who drives good, honest, conservative men away from the cause of true reform by the violence of his words and the intemperance of his excessive proposals.

Appeal to Workingmen.

"I beg the workingmen of New York who may hear or read my words to think upon these questions: Do you believe in President Roosevelt? Do you agree with his policy in pursuing and preventing corporate wrongdoing? Do you wish he may be able to continue that policy with power and success?

"If you do, then help him by your votes.

"I say to you, with his authority, that he greatly desires the election of a republican house of representatives to work with him next congress; I say to you, with his authority, he greatly desires the election of Mr. Hughes as governor of the state of New York.

Hearst Unfit, Says Roosevelt.

"I say to you, with his (Roosevelt's) authority, he regards Mr. Hearst as wholly unfit to be governor, as an insincere, self-seeking demagogue, who is trying to deceive the workingmen of New York by false statements and false promises. I say to you, with his authority, that he considers that Mr. Hearst's election would be an injury and discredit to honest labor and to honest capital, and a serious injury to the work in which he is engaged of enforcing just and equal laws against corporate wrong doing.

Roosevelt's View of Hearst.

"President Roosevelt and Mr. Hearst stand as far apart as the poles are asunder. Listen to what President Roosevelt himself has said of Mr. Hearst and his kind. In President Roosevelt's first message to congress, speaking of the assassin of McKinley, he spoke of him as inflamed by the reckless utterances of those who, on stump, in public press, appeal to the dark, evil spirits of malice, greed, envy, and sullen hatred. The wind sown by men who preach such doctrines, they cannot escape their share of the responsibility for the whirlwind that is reaped. This applies alike to the deliberate demagogue, to the exploiter of sensationalism, to the crude, foolish visionary who, for whatever reason, apologizes for crime, or excites aimless discontent,

"I say, by the president's authority, in penning these words, with the horror of President McKinley's murder fresh before him, he had Mr. Hearst specifically in his mind.

"And I say, by his authority, that what he thought of Mr. Hearst then he thinks of Mr. Hearst now."

Root's Discussion of the Issues.

This ended that part of Secretary Root's speech which dealt directly with Hearst. The secretary of state preceded his denunciation of the editor-candidate with an able, thoughtful discussion of the issues of the campaign in New York, which made it of national importance.

SEES DEMOCRATIC GAINS.

Chairman Griggs of the democratic congressional committee takes a roseate view of democratic prospects in the coming election and expects huge democratic gains in the Sixtieth congress. He has figured out an addition of sixty-seven democrats over the present membership of that party in the house. In an interview a day or two ago, Chairman Griggs gave out the following statement concerning the forthcoming congressional elections:

"Everything has been coming our way for the last thirty days. The republicans are sending out from their headquarters in New York one million postal cards calling on their voters with a Macedonian cry to get to the polls and vote for the party candidates to save the control of the house.

"We haven't the money to send out a million postals. It will cost our republican friends $20,000 to do it; but the people realize the situation. They don't care a continental about the republican cards, and they don't need cards from us.

"Not only are the local conditions in many states favoring us, but there is a widespread unrest regarding the tariff. Many people for a long time suppressed their dissatisfaction with the republican tariff policy because they thought the president was at heart for tariff revision and would get around to it in due time. That kept the masses of tariff revision republicans lined up for a long while, but when they came to realize that the administration had gone over to the stand patters they saw the error of their ways.

"The claim of a gain of ten in New York is safe. The claim of one gain each in Massachusetts, North Carolina, Kentucky, Montana, Delaware, Rhode Island, Connecticut, Idaho and Virginia are all good, but in Pennsylvania we will gain more than six. Similarly the claim of a democratic gain of six in Illinois is too conservative. We will gain eight in Missouri. Concessions of five or six are made in Ohio, but we know better. Iowa, Nebraska and California are counted on for gains and the computation that puts us down to gain only three in Indiana is in error. Colorado has been claimed for a gain of one, but will do better than that. New Jersey is hopelessly torn up and is to be counted on for at least three."

Mr. Lloyd-George, a member of the British Cabinet, in a recent speech in Wales, said that there were tens of millions of persons in the United Kingdom enduring year after year the torture of "living on, lacking the bare necessaries of life," and all this existed amid a splendid plenty which poured into a land so wealthy that it could afford to loan out of its splendid riches thousands of millions to less well endowed lands in other parts of the world. One of the causes, he said, was the fact that so many were unable to earn sufficient to maintain themselves and their families. He asserted that there was a large percentage of the population of sober clean men and women who suffered the privations of unmerited poverty. He said that a large percentage of poverty was due to drink and gambling, and he added that next year the government meant to wrestle with the drink problem in earnest. He said that it would require all the aid all the organizations for the elevation of the lot of humanity could give them. He predicted that this effort of the government to arrest the wrong done by drink would lead to a great struggle, but he thought the government would succeed in its effort to check the evil.

The Pennsylvania state house grafters evidently lost no time in availing themselves of what was left of a good thing, as witness the following paragraph of interest from the Pittsburg Post: "On November 5, 1905, W. H. Berry, democrat, was elected treasurer of this state, and on May 7, 1906, he assumed office. Within that period there was drawn from the state treasury $5,005,863 of the $9,000,000 expended for capitol trimmings. That was a precipitancy in 'cashing in' that suggests its own commentary. Perhaps the real shortage in the treasury was fixed by recoupment from the enormous sum thus extracted for unwarranted squandering of the people's money."

Notwithstanding the verdict of a majority of his republican constituents in the Eleventh Ohio district, Congressman Grosvenor is not convinced that his political usefulness has lapped over on to the borderland of Oslerism and has jumped the fence into the neighboring state of Pennsylvania in answer to Congressman Dalzell's Macedonian cry. Meanwhile, in several Ohio districts stupendous efforts and no little cash are being expended to save three or four republicans who slipped in two years ago on the Roosevelt tidal wave. Why does not Grosvenor fight with his division?

The campaign will practically be closed tomorrow night. Everywhere the situation is perplexing. The republicans are looking for losses and hoping losses will not be sufficient to lose them anything. Democrats are expecting gains and hoping for enough to overcome the republican majority in the house. It is to be noted, however, that there is an absence on both sides of the usual flamboyant claims customary just preceding an election.

The speech of Secretary of State Root at Utica in opposition to William R. Hearst was a most bitter attack. Its chief significance lies in the fact that its statements proclaim ex cathedra the views of President Roosevelt. It was designed to arrest wavering republicans who are drifting Hearstwards and doubtless will exert more or less influence in that respect.

Black Buck Surprised by Idian Railway Train

FROM THE GRAPHIC.

Black buck are still plentiful in certain parts of India, and often find their way through the railway fencing for the sake of the short grass along the track, which the village cattle are unable to get at. The buck are far too nimble to get run over, but when surprised by a train they will stand and stare until the engine is nearly upon them and then bound off down the line or back over the fencing.

While Nicely Covered With Bait The Hook is There

The Mail Order Houses are Attempting to Sell Their Watered Stock to the Farmers

While the artist has depicted the result likely to follow a purchase of this watered stock by our Farmer Friends, the poor success thus far attained in their effort to sell the stock indicates a flat failure of the scheme. One of the largest of these concerns is so hard pushed for cash that they are offering 7 per cent. for money in Chicago, where the usual rate of the banks to sound commercial houses is but 5 per cent.

Farmers and Mechanics are finding out that the stuff these mail order houses sell is for the most part cheaply made, dear in price and unsatisfactory to the purchaser.

For instance: About one-half of all the cheap, shoddy stoves shipped to Fort Wayne by these concerns two or three years ago now adorn the scrap-iron piles about town.

If you want the best Base Burners or the best Steel Ranges that money can buy, either for cash or on payments, the "Big Store" will give you more for your money than you can get anywhere else.

Burke Roche Refuses to Recognize Delaware Decree.

Newport, R. I., Nov. 2.—Papers have been served on Mrs. Aurel Batonyi, formerly Mrs. Burke Roche, notifying her of the bringing of divorce proceedings by her former husband, Burke Roche of England, who now is living in France, this being necessary on account of his action during the war between Russia and Japan, when he delivered a torpedo boat into the hands of the Japanese, for which action he was compelled to leave the country.

The case is to be tried in the English courts some time this month, as the English courts do not recognize the divorce which Mrs. Batonyi obtained in Delaware several years ago. It is understood that the grounds claimed by Burke Roche are bigamy.

When seen yesterday afternoon Mrs. Batonyi gave out the following statement:

"I was married in the United States after an unhappy married life and obtained a divorce in the United States many years ago. As I am an American citizen, I have nothing to do with the laws outside of the United States."

Mrs. Batonyi married Mr. Batonyi in New York in August, 1905.

MARQUIS ITO IS SOON TO RETIRE

COUNT KATSURA TO REPLACE HIM IN KOREA.

Japan in Interest of Economy to Reduce Manchurian and Corean Garrisons.

Victoria, B. C., Nov. 2.—Marquis Ito, resident general for Japan in Corea, is to return in December and Count Katsura, former premier, will replace him. News to this effect was given in a letter received yesterday from a Japanese journalist of Tokio, who is in close touch with the government.

The writer also says that in view of military increasement at home and in keeping with economic measures planned by the military authorities, half of the Japanese garrisons in Manchuria and Korea are to be recalled. The military program comprises the augmentation of the Japanese army to nineteen divisions, exclusive of the imperial guards division of Tokio. At present four divisions are maintained as garrisons in Korea and Manchuria. These will be reduced to two divisions.

News was given out of how the Japanese secured the big British steamer without cost owing to a legal controversy arising from the coming of the ill-fated Baltic squadron of Rojestvensky to Japanese waters. When the Baltic squadron was passing Formosa the British steamer, Oldhamia, was captured, having been abondoned when the Russian squadron was defeated in the Sea of Japan, the Oldhamia ran ashore at Itrup island. The British owners claimed damages, meanwhile leaving the steamer derelict. The Japanese did not interfere with the vessel. Finally Kalachro Murakawa took possession of the vessel and Japanese newspaper report that the owners, the Manchester Steamship company, have consented to the possession of the steamer by Mr. Murakawa on condition that he will give evidence in connection with the claim for damages filed by the company against the Russian government.

Miss Hazel Scheimann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Scheimann gave a pretty Hallowe'en party Tuesday evening and entertained about forty young folks. The decorations of the house were suitable and graceful in arrangement. Miss Blanche Lloyd served cider in a pumpkin punch bowl.

The young people of Simpson M. E. church gave a social at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O'Day, 537 Wallace street, last evening, which was attended by a large number of young people. One particular feature of the evening which was greatly enjoyed was a fortune telling booth. An auction sale of lunch boxes proved interesting in many ways.

Miss Lena Luley, of South Hanna street, was the hostess for a pretty party Wednesday evening. Yellow chrysanthemums were mingled with outdoor foliage for decoration and lanterns were made of yellow pumpkins. Games, sports and music whiled the time away pleasantly. Prizes were won by Albert Gerard, Bert Jones, Jessie Dubois, Elanora Monahan. Mrs. Philip Luley and Mrs. Anthony Luley served the supper.

A pretty party of Wednesday evening was at the home of Miss Ruth and Walter Tracy, who entertained some of their friends with a marshmallow bake. Mavis and Malcolm Whyte, of Glasgow avenue, gave a Hallowe'en party Wednesday evening to which they invited some of their schoolmates. All the decorations, including those of the supper table where a pumpkin lantern attracted much notice, were suggestive of the day, and there were various games like ducking for apples, snap dragon and so on for amusement. Those present were Ruth Leonard, Constance Martin, Savilla Rumrill, Lucile Leidolf, Gertrude Gocke, Eileen Whyte, William Wallace Evans and Leonard Ellenwood.

A Halloween frolic that will be pleasantly remembered was the one for which Miss Clara Kindt was hostess last evening. The rooms were handsomely decorated with autumn foliage, ferns and festoonings of red and green. Jack-o'-lanterns grinned a welcome and two ghost-like figures waited at the door for the guests and gave them directions of what to do. Those present were the Misses Mary Snyder, Lottie Roy, Mary Kleemer, Fay Stevenson, Katie Christie, Gertrude Schaphorst, Louise Christie and Lizzie Snyder. Fortunes were told and a supper served. Besides each guest received a watercolor sketch done by the hostess as a souvenir.

Miss Agnes DeGratty was the victim of an agreeable surprise last evening at her home, 210 Hayden street. A number of her friends concluded to spend the evening with Miss DeGratty and the result was a merry time at cards and different games. Refreshments were served after the various contests. Miss Kate and Miss Anna Shuman entertained the members of the Luther league of Trinity English Lutheran church at their home Wednesday evening at a ghost party. Everyone was in ghostly costume and a part of the fun was in guessing who the ghosts were. The house was beautifully decorated for the evening with corn hung in the shock around the picture molding and archways, autumn leaves, bittersweet berries, vines and hedge apples. Pumpkin lanterns were in all necessary places for lighting purposes and some places just for fun. Pumpkin pie and doughnuts proved better refreshments than ice cream and cake would have been and there were a few extra things besides. Miss Sadie Wenninghoff and Miss Millie Thompson won prizes in guessing games.

The members of the O. M. C. were entertained Wednesday evening at the home of Miss Susie Coppock. It was a Halloween party without doubt, for the first person to greet the guests was a large ghost in the front hall. Besides there were witches there. The rooms were trimmed with yellow lanterns and cornstalks. The dining room was especially attractive and less like a den for witches. There were miniature lights gleaming amid asparagus fern. In the center of the table was a large pumpkin that had been hollowed out. The space was filled with nuts from which ribbons extended to each place at the table. To be sure they were witch nuts, for when they were cracked open they had verses in them. Each boy found a small skull at his plate as a souvenir of the party and the girls found small pumpkin shells all filled with candy. Mrs. Coppock was assisted by Miss Emma Foellinger and Miss Agnes Coppock in serving the supper. Games were a part of the fun and dancing followed. The guests were the Misses Clara Bendure, Carrie Weller, Cornelia Foellinger, Reba Jackson, Viola Warner, Mabel Cooper, Marguerite Langford, Frieda Kampe and Perry Cooper, Arthur Paine, Douglas Johnston, Paul Baade, Guy Laurence, Nate Bendure, Arthur Rose, Walter Hitzemann, Herbery ZurMuehlen.

The members of the M. G. and their guests had a gay time last night in Hibernian hall, giving a Halloween reception. The decorations were suitable for that particular day and made the rooms both pretty and attractive. On a grassy mound sat a tin bucket filled with punch, which Marie Sullivan, in fairy garments, served. The lighting was done with Jack-o'-lanterns. Mr. and Mrs. Fink chaperoned the young people. In dancing the opening march was led by Miss Shea and Barney Spanley. After the march two ghost-like figures, who proved to be Joseph Shea and Willie Hayes, delivered programs for the dancing. The members of the club are Katherine Morris, Loretta Conroy, Freda Rust, Louise Harvey, Mary Shea, Mayme Hayes, Nellie Palmer, Kate Griffin, Tena Kronmiller, Minnie Schwartz, Frances Barnett. NEW WAITRESS' APRON IN PRINCESS STYLE.

Correct Modes in Maids' Aprons

Princess Style Newest for Waitresses—Are Smart and Practical—"V" Paterns Pretty for Serving and Dainty Round Design for Parlor Maids.

Waitresses' aprons made princess style are the newest thing this fall in correct dress for house servants, and all mistresses who keep their establishments up-to-date will doubtless have their serving maids don the smart looking dress accessories for every-day wear. These stylish princess patterns have an individuality that even the coquettish parlor or ladies' maids aprons lack, for in addition to being serviceable they fit the figure almost like a frock and are much neater in appearance than those formerly used with bibs. They are quite as practical, too, for the princess effect, brought about by introducing a long panel that reaches from the bust line to the bottom of the skirt, covers just as much of the gown as the old-time bib aprons did.

Made of sheer lawn with embroidery or lace insertion outlining the princess panels these aprons are pretty and becoming to almost any type of maid. The tops of these panels are square, and finished either with hemstitching, embroidery or face edging to match the trimming used on the body of the garment. At either end, to hold the panels in place across the chest, there are straps or bretelles of embroidery or the plain material with ruffle of lace that pass over the shoulders, cross in the back, and are pinned securely in place beneath the ribbon ties in the back.

"V" Style Apron Used.

There is another new and pretty style of apron for serving maids. It is called the "V" pattern, because the upper part that answers to the old-fashioned bib is made in the shape of a "V" of heavy embroidery, lace, or of sheer lawn trimmed with a pretty filmy insertion. This "V" starts with straps or bretelles at the shoulders that join at the waist. The tops are kept in place by the embroidery bretelles that are fastened into the belt line at the back.

With these smart aprons the regulation dark frock with stiff collars and cuffs will be worn, and for a head-dress a plain white bow of sheer linen or lawn, with hemstitched ends, will be correct for maids this season.

Ladies' or parlor maids' aprons are decidedly "chic" in new designs. They are made of dotted swiss, either in large or small designs, and being round or oval in shape are most becoming to slender young women. Unlike those used by other house servants these little aprons are worn more as a pretty addition to the severe black dresses than for any practical purpose, for they reach only to the knees, and not beyond the hip line at the sides. Some are made with bibs round or oval in shape to match the aprons proper, while others have nothing but insertion above the waist line. As dainty as the aprons are the strings tipped with embroidery or lace, that when tied make a fluffy bow in the back, and incidentally hold the garment in place.

The bibs on these smart aprons have no straps or bretelles to hold them up, so that pretty pins must be used, and these, if in enamel or gold, make the garment decidedly decorative.

Ladies' Maids' Aprons Hand Embroidered.

Besides being unusual in shape they have ruffles of the material or of lace or embroidery around the edges, and half way between the waist line and the bottom are two little pockets, into which delicate lace trimmed handkerchiefs may be coyly and carelessly placed. Hand embroidered ladies' maids' aprons will be worn in establishments where the mistresses can afford to pay for the hand work, which is most elaborate. Elaborately curled and curved floral designs and scroll patterns are worked on the sheer linen and lawn and on the strings, all of which make these garments most attractive.

The caps worn with these aprons should be bows, and hand embroidered to match. Made like those used by the waitresses or chambermaids these little pieces of lingerie for the head are distinguished from those donned by other servants by the narrow ribbon rosettes. Pretty embroidered collars and cuffs in soft lawn or linen complete this costume.

The cook's apron made with a bib is of plain white cambric and entirely covers the skirt, fastening in the back with big wide streamers that may be tied in a pretty bow. The bib with hemstitching around the edges is square in shape and comes up above the bust line to protect the waist of the gingham or calico dresses worn by these kitchen servants. Straps or bretelles over the shoulder keep it in place. A nine-inch hem at the bottom of the apron stitched by hand saves it from being plain in appearance.

MALINE NECK BOA.

Take a strip of inch wide double faced satin ribbon, white, black or colored, the length of the intended ruff. This is for the foundation, to which the pleated fluffy material will be sewn. Point de sprit and net are more substantial than malines, and for the present wear will be more appropriate also. To make a good full boa you will require six strips about seven inches wide and the length of the material. Sew three of these together on the short ends, making one long strip and triple box pleat very closely through the middle. When finished this should fit a ribbon about twenty inches long, to which it should be stitched down. Sew the three remaining strips in the same way, pleat and sew down to the ribbon, making a double ruching. No finish is really necessary on the edges, but streamers of ribbons may be added, one wide one to each end or three narrow ones in irregular lengths and either knotted about the ends. This will be a handsome ruff and much fuller really than those found in the shops, which are just given a full effect by their airiness.

AN UNNECESSARY FASHION.

"Do we really need six different kinds of spoons?" said Miss Helen Kinne, professor of domestic science at Teachers College, at a recent conference of the domestic science department of Brooklyn Institute. "A time ago people needed only one or two different kinds of spoons and forks, and they were quite as comfortable and happy as we are, and really, when you stop to think of it, weren't they quite as well bred? I wish there was some way to get statistics of the number of women who are spending time, effort, their lives, you might say, to appear as well as some one else who has more money. We buy so many things that give us neither comfort nor pleasure, that we don't need or even really want, simply because some one else has them and we are ashamed to be without them."

TO REMOVE RUST.

Here is a remedy that has never failed: Have a teakettle full of boiling water on the stove; take the garment dry, cut a lemon in two, squeeze the juice on the spots and hold over the steaming spout of the teakettle; then see how readily the spots of rust will yield to this treatment.

INSPECTORS OF NERVES.

The possessors of unstable nerves generally are so destructive of public comfort and the health and sanity of their progeny that inspectors of nerves are needed almost as much as inspectors of nuisances.—Home Chat.

TO CLEAN WHITE WOOL.

Bury the white wool jacket in a large panful of salt and flour. Mix the salt and flour in equal parts. Rub every part of it between your fingers in the salted flour, as if you were washing it in soap suds. Do this gently but thoroughly. After ten minutes spent thus change to another vessel; cover with clean flour, throw a cloth over it and leave all night. Next day shake and hang in the air to get rid of the powder.

"JUST A LITTLE"

Grape-Nuts Worked Wonders for an Unfortunate Woman.

"At last I was obliged to sit all day at a sewing machine in a factory," said an English lady who was once well and happy, but whose circumstances changed so that she was compelled to earn her living.

"I soon suffered dreadfully with indigestion, some days thought I would die from acute pain in front of the waist line. I took about everything for indigestion without any permanent relief; tried starvation but suffered just as much whether I ate anything or not.

"Curiosity caused me to try a package of Grape-Nuts food for a change. Then I got a second package and began to use it regularly. What was my surprise—bowels became regular, no more headaches, piles troubled me less frequently and best of all the stomach trouble was gone entirely. I wanted Grape-Nuts for luncheon as well as breakfast—seemed as if my system craved what was good for it.

"Everyone in the family has taken to eating Grape-Nuts. They said I ate it with so much relish they thought it must be very good—and so it is.

"My little girl has gained five pounds since she started eating Grape-Nuts—in about three months. I think everyone, sick or well, should eat Grape-Nuts at least twice every day." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

PRYOR'S BAND CONCERT.

A musical treat as rare as it is infrequent in this city, was afforded two audiences at the Majestic theater yesterday in the first appearance here of Pryor's band. The counter attraction of a big political meeting lessened the size of the audience last night, much to the regret of many who wanted to hear the band.

Pryor's band certainly gave two beautiful concerts, and praise could be rightfully bestowed on both Mr. Pryor and his players, until it might seem fulsome to one who had not heard them. For absolutely perfect phrasing and interprelative qualities with various lights and shades of expression, no organization has been heard to do better work than Pryor's band in a group of Massenet numbers from that composer's "Scenes Pittoresque." Delicacy of handling that was orchestral in effect, with beautiful tone qualities from all instruments, with the perfect precision of attack and close which only long practice and strict discipline can accomplish, were characteristics of the band's work especially noticeable in the selection of Massenet. Mr. Pryor is a master of effect, but there is no pyrotechnique display to produce it, neither is there a blare of brasses followed by an echo from the reeds to express fortissimo and piano. Rather, the brasses never lose a certain melowness of tone, such as Mr. Pryor displays in his really wonderful playing of the sliding trombone. Phrases intended as loud, were that, without jarring or rasping sound, and contrasting soft phrases were produced by the same instruments with equal clearness of tone.

Three soloists were heard at the evening concert, Simone Mantia gave a remarkable manipulation of a big brass instrument called the Pryorphone. Mr. Mantia produced a velvety tone and proved a master of technique and an appreciative interpreter. One could imagine an old cornet player who might hear the Pryorphone played without seeing it, as wondering what had happened to the pitch of his cornet, for he would not dream that anyone could "triple tongue" any brass other than a cornet, as Mr. Mentia did his bulky looking Pryorphone.

Miss Stella Thomas, a contralto with a rich toned voice of considerable range, and a pleasing personality, sang two songs, and Mr. Pryor delighted the audience with two solos on the trombone.

Among the responses to enthusiastic applause Mr. Pryor had popular selections played. "The Baby Parade" was new and distinctive and gave the audience so much pleasure that the "Razzazza Mazzaza" followed. After two effective compositions of Mr. Pryor's own composition, the response was "Everybody Works But Father," which was a revelation of instrumental possibilities. The close of the program was unusual. The band is separated. The reeds occupy the orchestra pit, and the brasses are behind the scenes or marching back and forth on the stage as the incidents of "The Triumph of Old Glory," which is illustrated at the same time with beautiful stereopticon and moving pictures, call for. —Bagsby.

Of course it may be true that marriages are made in heaven, but circumstantial evidence would indicate that most of them are made by the girls' mothers.

Politeness is like an air cushion—there may be nothing solid in it, but it eases the jolts of the world considerably.—Woman's Life.

S.S.S. CURES ECZEMA

The real cause for Eczema is the presence of humors and sour acids in the blood. These impurities get into the circulation because of imperfect action of those members of the system whose duty it is to collect and carry off the refuse and waste of the body. As this effete matter lies in the system it ferments and generates acrid humors which are absorbed into the blood, overcharging this vital fluid with acid. In its effort to keep the system healthy the blood throws off the humors through the pores and glands of the skin, causing this tormenting skin disease. The escape of acids and humors through the pores and glands irritates and burns the skin, producing pustules filled with a clear, sticky fluid, which dries in crusts and patches causing the most intense itching, and often pain. The trouble is in the blood, and S. S. S. is the remedy for Eczema, because it is a real blood purifier. It goes down into the circulation, removes all acids and humors and makes the blood rich, pure and healthy. When S. S. S. has done this the symptoms pass away, the blood is cooled and the disease cured permanently. Nothing acts so promptly or pleasantly in all skin diseases as S. S. S., and it is at the same time a fine tonic to the entire system. Book on Skin Diseases and medical advice free. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

How to Fool a Lazy Liver with Artificial Exercise

EVERY serious Sickness has a small beginning.

And, in nine cases out of ten, that beginning is made in the Bowels.

Constipation is the beginning of most diseases. It paves the way for all others.

Lack of exercise, hasty eating, improper food, are its first causes.

Laziness, and postponement, permit it to grow into Chronic Constipation, which means life-long Discomfort.

It isn't necessary to be sick-a-bed, you know, in order to be mighty uncomfortable.

Even a slight Indigestion affects the nerves, dulls the mind, and obscures the merry sunshine of Life.

The time to adjust the Bowels is the very minute you suspect they need adjustment.

—If your tongue is slightly coated,

—If your breath is under suspicion,

—If your head feels a trifle heavy or dull,

—If digestion seems even a little slow,

—If Heartburn, Belching, Colic or Restlessness begin to show themselves,

—That's the time to eat a Cascaret.

It acts as pleasantly as it tastes. It is as congenial to your Bowels as it is to your Palate.

It stimulates the muscular lining of the Bowels and Intestines, so that they mechanically extract nourishment from the food and drive out the waste.

The only way to have Cascarets ready to use precisely when you need them is to carry them constantly in your pocket, as you do a Watch or a Lead pencil.

The ten cent box of Cascarets is made thin, flat, round-edged, and small, for this precise purpose.

Be very careful to get the genuine, made only by the Sterling Remedy Company and never sold in bulk. Every tablet stamped "CCC." All druggists. 710

The Hospital

Thankful are They Who Escape The Surgeon's Knife

Thousands of surgical operations are performed every year in our great city hospitals upon women afflicted with serious female troubles. Sometimes the operations are successful—oftentimes they are not.

It is safe to say that certainly nine out of ten operations for female troubles might have been wholly avoided.

The most valuable tonic and re-builder of the female organism, the medicine with a record of thousands of cases literally snatched from the operating table, is

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Do not consent to an operation which may mean death until after you have given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial. Note what it did for Mrs. Paul Oliver, whose letter follows:

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I was suffering from pains in my side and a serious female trouble. The doctors said to get well I must have an operation performed, but I would not consent to that.

I heard of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and sent for a bottle; the first dose did me good, and after taking the first bottle I could sleep all right and I did not have those pains in my abdomen which I had all the time before. Now I can ride ten miles in a carriage, my color has returned, and I am full of life. I owe all this to the Vegetable Compound.

It has also done wonders for my thirteen-year-old daughter. I will never cease to praise it and recommend it to my friends.

MRS. PAUL OLIVER, St. Martinsville, La.

Thousands of women, residing in every part of the United States, bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It cures female ills and creates radiant, buoyant female health. For your own sake try it.

Continuing, Senator Beveridge said in part:

In all the elements of material greatness, America stands today the first power on earth, but what is more important, it stands first in manhood and womanhood as well. Over a vast domain now floats that undefeated banner that always has meant and always will mean civilization liberty and law. And the American people have made themselves all this—how? By means of fertile fields, busy factories, tireless industry, high purposes? Yes, by all of these, but also by choosing as their servant for working out the problems of progress the republican party. In the last fifty years it has done more good things for the nation and the world—has enacted more good laws than was ever done before in any one period in the history of mankind. The country has been saved, freemen have been given homes, repudiation has been killed and the nation's honor saved through the agency of the republican party. And during all these years of splendor, what one law did the democratic party ever write? Not one? Oh, yes—the Wilson-Gorman tariff law, that historic statute of American disaster.

From Past to Present.

But we are not appealing to you upon the ground of past achievement. The republican party is not a has-been. Yielding not one point of past glory, we stand upon the solution of twentieth century problems. Before us is the work of corporate control and the more equitable regulation of centralized wealth. This is a great period when the American people are writing their consciences into their statute books. This is a movement in which we find ourselves today—it is not a campaign. It is not the work of a mere political party, but an effort of human progress that will go forward until all American life is further uplifted and made still more glorious.

Under the Roosevelt administration there has been marvelous commercial growth and prosperity, but the balance sheet is the smallest item of our appeal. We want American business to be great, but we want it to be clean as well as great. We are building civilization as well as making money. We intend to make "well enough" still better. In the vocabulary of America there should be no such term as "well enough." When it describes the situation, our doom will be sounded, for it stops progress. We of today are improving conditions over what we found them, and our fondest hope is that our children will take up the work where we leave it and make it still better. Every day, so long as the world continues, there is more and better work to do. This is the spirit that animates the great republican party—that moves that splendid American, Theodore Roosevelt, in the efforts for reforms that benefit the lives and the homes of the people.

In the past five years we have passed at least twenty laws, upon any one of which in the old days a campaign could have been waged. The passage of the law creating the department of commerce and labor shows how fast we are traveling. That alone is doing more for the purification of business and the uplifting of American trade than all others combined. Through that law we have investigated the great Standard Oil company. A few years ago such an idea was undreamed of. But under the probe of Roosevelt and those who are standing by him more crimes have been bared to light and today there are before the bars of the people's justice many powerful financial influences that imagined heretofore they were above prosecution. Today among the great masters of finance there is more respect for the law than ever before. But the government is doing a more remarkable thing than that—it has investigated that model corporation, the Pennsylvania Railroad company, and it was found to my intense surprise that officers high in authority were committing a moral crime and what in the future will be a legal crime—they were receiving stock from coal companies in exchange for favors which were not granted to other shippers. But this is not all the department of commerce and labor is doing. Business was never so safe or sure as under Roosevelt.

Principle First Recognized.

The railroad rate law is not yet perfect, but it is the outgrowth of a correct principle that will be improved as situations demand it. In that law for the first time in the history of the country was written the principle that the nation has the right to regulate the railroads. If that is enforced, there will be no need of anybody wasting time talking about government ownership of railroads. We don't want to own anything we don't have to own in self-defense. If the only way to keep the railroad out of politics were for the government to own it, I would want the government to own it—for the railroad must get out of politics. We only need an awakened national conscience to solve the problem. Put every corrupt lobbyist in jail. That's the way to keep them out of politics. Not government ownership, but the penitentiary is the remedy for corruption.

I understand Mr. Bryan has been here paying his compliments to me. That is all right, for a few weeks ago when I opened the campaign in Nebraska I paid my compliments to him. I have only the highest moral respect for Mr. Bryan. What I admire most is the man who courageously declares his belief and then stands by it. I think Mr. Bryan is sincere, capable, brave and upright—he's simply wrong, that's all. I often wondered how he, a man so good and so wise, could be so often wrong on public questions, and I think I've discovered the reason—he travels so fast and talks so much that he hasn't time to think. Bryan is an idealist. Now, an idealist is splendid—all civilization is built on ideals, but only on ideals that can be realized. I think I can illustrate the difference between Mr. Bryan and Mr. Roosevelt by a comparison with a base ball game. Mr. Bryan is always striking out, while Roosevelt is making home runs—because he always hits where the ball is. Mr. Bryan hits where he thinks the ball ought to be, but it isn't there. Both are good men, and either is better than the man who stands in the corner of the grounds and swears at the umpire.

As to Following Bryan.

Mr. Bryan charges the republican party with following the principles he enunciated. Well, if it were true we were copying from him, I would not care. With me it is not who first suggested an idea, but is it a good thing and who can get it done? When did Mr. Bryan ever suggest a pure food law? When did he ever suggest a meat inspection law? Did he ever get down near enough to earth to think of that? Does any follower of Bryan believe that if the democrats had controlled congress in the past few years any of these reform measures would now be on the statute books? No; the time of the democrats would have been taken up in settling disputes between John Sharp Williams and William Randolph Hearst.

When we put the pure food law on the statute books we wrote into the law a new principle—a principle which any lawyer in Indiana or elsewhere before that time would have told you was not existent at that time. It was this: When any business becomes so great that it affects all the people, it must be regulated by the government of all the people. The pure food law does this. The meat inspection bill is in the same category.

I have no quarrel with the great corporations; they are necessary to do the great business of the American people, but when they do wrong they must be punished. So long as they are honest I do not oppose them but when the packers in their greed for gain sold to the American people diseased meats, then I did have a quarrel with the beef trust. Another splendid accomplishment of the past session is the employers' liability bill. The republican party is the only organized friend of labor.

Laws and Execution.

Healthful laws need both amendment and execution. Today that splendid American, Theodore Roosevelt, is executing them. Shall he continue? Will you stand by the president? There is only one way you can do this—and that is by throwing aside small partisan politics and voting for Clarence Gilhams for congress from the Twelfth district. The great republican party proposes to move forward in its march of progress—to do still better things tomorrow. Another of the early needs is a child labor law, for I tell you citizenship is more important than money. There is need of more effectual control of swollen fortunes. There are important foreign problems to be solved. The American flag ought to be waving in Cuba, for Cuba will ultimately be American. We shall establish one more government there, and if it falls, as it surely must in time, then I say that when the American flag is raised over Cuba again, it will be raised to stay.

I believe with all my soul that this nation is guarded by divine wisdom. The American people have a sacred mission. Would you know its history? Go to the graves of the ragged continentals from Lexington to Yorktown, to the graves of the boys in blue from Shiloh to Appomattox, from the shot-swept hills of San Juan to the perils of the Philippines and read the glorious pages made holy by patriotism's sacrifice. In every home the chair made vacant by the soldier's death is a throne of glory. Did these splendid men hesitate because the task was hard or the way difficult? Shall we hesitate at these great social and commercial problems? Why has God made us the strongest people if not to do His most serious work? Let us go forward until human rights are forever established and until our beloved America is the mightiest power for righteousness among mankind.

Following his address Mr. Beveridge shook hands with several hundred people who crowded around his and clasped his hands.

THE OVERFLOW MEETING.

But a small audience was present at the overflow meeting in the court house assembly room, popular interest centering upon Mr. Beveridge. Deputy Attorney General W. C. Geake, presided at the court house meeting and presented Lieutenant Governor Miller who gave a brief address upon national issues. He was followed by Hon. W. L. Taylor, former attorney general, and C. C. Gilhams, the republican congressional nominee.

Mr. Beveridge was driven to the court house at the close of his principal address and spoke briefly at the overflow meeting, contending among other things for the enactment of a primary law by which the people of Indiana might nominate their candidates for office by popular vote.

The Packard PIANO

FALL DISPLAY OF PIANOS

Worthy of a visit of inspection by everyone interested in the subject.

THE MASTER GRAND

An exquisite small Packard Grand, unapproached for tone or charming case design. In artistically furnished homes this piano is replacing the upright models.

PACKARD PIANO

The 1907 models of these beautiful instruments contain the handsomest cases we have ever shown. Many designs and styles a full year ahead of those to be seen elsewhere.

Packard tone is the STANDARD for comparison.

STERLING PIANOS

have gained their place at the pinnacle of piano popularity by their own merits. Their sweet, singing tone, grand volume, easy action and artistic appearance receive the highest praise and admiration of all musical critics.

HUNTINGTON PIANOS

The tone and durability of this piano is usually found only in pianos selling at $50 and $75 higher. A favorite with conservatories and music schools.

PIANOLA PIANOS

The only piano containing the genuine Pianola.

There is no musical instrument that has aroused so much curiosity and enthusiasm as the Pianola Piano.

It is almost an imperative duty for persons desiring to keep up with times to see and hear this new piano—the piano that anyone can play.

THE METROSTYLE PIANOLA

The world's standard piano player, today regarded as much of an essential in modern homes as the piano itself.

for all in the purchase of pianos. Our business has been built up from a small beginning to its present proportions on the foundation of giving everybody everytime a "square deal." Our ONE PRICE basis of sale insures the lowest price to all.

QUALITY THE FIRST CONSIDERATION.

If you simply seek cheapness in a piano, you not only do not save but defeat the very purpose for which pianos are bought. A piano is purchased to delight the family circle with music and to educate the ear. A thin, wiry-toned instrument in a fancy piece of cabinet work does neither of these things.

If you are contemplating the purchase of an instrument—or even view it as among future possibilities—there is every reason for making us a visit of inspection NOW

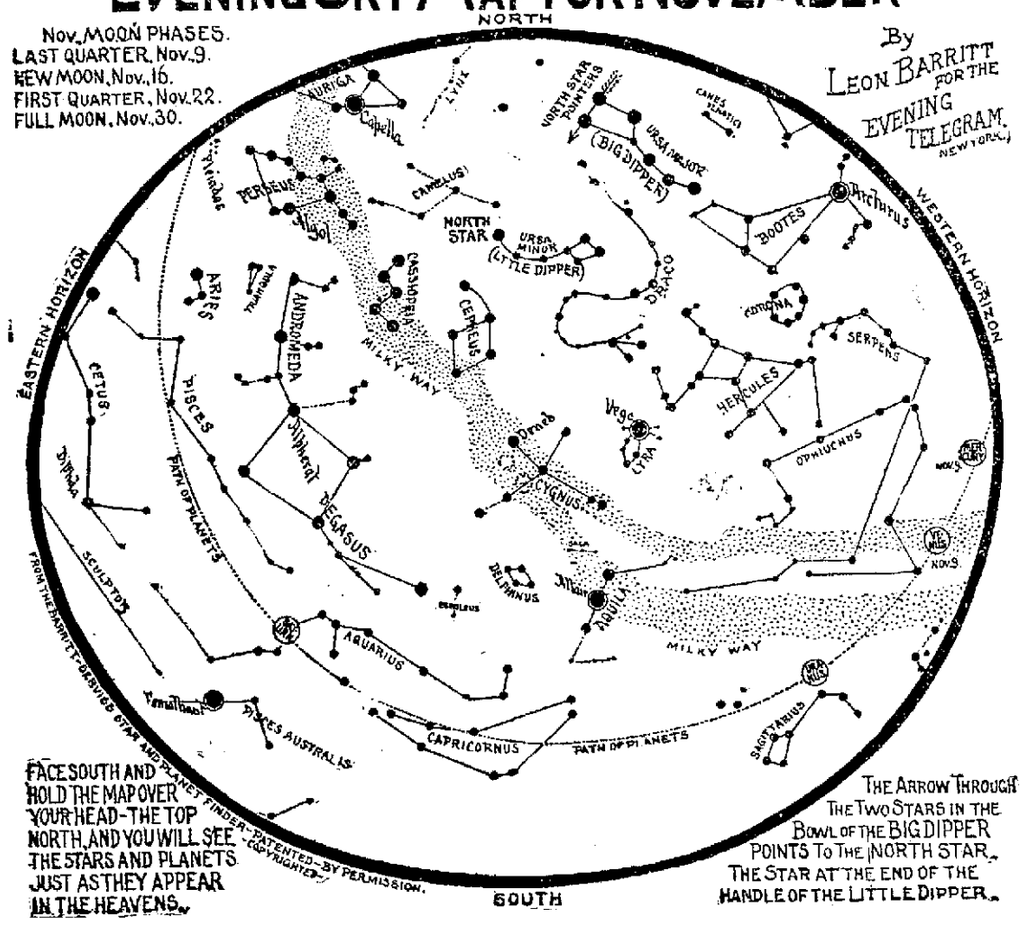
EVENING SKY MAP FOR NOVEMBER



Nov. MOON PHASES.
LAST QUARTER, Nov. 9.
NEW MOON, Nov. 16.
FIRST QUARTER, Nov. 22.
FULL MOON, Nov. 30.

By LEON BARRITT FOR THE EVENING TELEGRAM, NEW YORK.

FACE SOUTH AND HOLD THE MAP OVER YOUR HEAD—THE TOP NORTH, AND YOU WILL SEE THE STARS AND PLANETS JUST AS THEY APPEAR IN THE HEAVENS.

THE ARROW THROUGH THE TWO STARS IN THE BOWL OF THE BIG DIPPER POINTS TO THE NORTH STAR. THE STAR AT THE END OF THE HANDLE OF THE LITTLE DIPPER.

—PATENTED—BY PERMISSION. COPYRIGHTED—

Capella, a very beautiful star of the first magnitude, and one of the brightest in the heavens, is now coming into view in the early evening in the northeast. It is a double star, a binary it is termed. Many stars are shown by the telescope to be composed of two or more bodies.

Our north star has a companion body of the ninth magnitude, and is believed to have still another. The north star, which appears to be stationary, also partakes of the apparent motion of the star field that is caused by the rotation of the earth from west to east, but only to a very slight degree, quite imperceptible to the eye, moving in a circle only two and one-quarter degrees in diameter—that would be about five full moon disks.

Algol, in Perseus, will be found a little higher up in the sky above Capella. It is the most noted of the variable stars. Its magnitude is two and one-half degrees usually. For two and one-half days it continues at this magnitude, then for four hours it fades away until it becomes of the fourth magnitude. Here it remains for twenty minutes, then through four hours more recovery its brilliancy. This dulling of its light is caused by its being eclipsed by a dark companion body revolving around it.

The diameter of Algol is 1,000,000 miles and that of its companion body 800,000 miles. Stars are spoken of by astronomers as of the first, second, third, etc., "magnitude." The popular impression is that this refers to the size of the stars, which is erroneous. It applies to their brilliancy; the actual size and distance of but few stars is known—only about seventy-five.

The Big Dipper is now due north, and unless the observer has a low, clear horizon in that direction he will not have a full view of it. The Great Bear (Ursa Major), as this constellation was known to the Greeks and Persians, was called Hippopotamus by the Egyptians—the bear being unknown in Egypt.

Reference to the map will show the principal constellation in view in the early evening this month.

November "Shooting Stars."

On or about November 14 every year we have an annual display of shooting stars or meteors. These in the main radiate from the constellation Leo, and are caled Leonides. As this constellation does not appear until in the morning hours this month, it is safe to assume that the most brilliant displays will reward those only whose enthusiasm will induce them to rise between two and four a. m. to witness them. This should not deter those who wish to see something of these messengers from the heavens from gazing into the northeast sky at this time in the early evening, for they will be compensated by witnessing a more than ordinary number of shooting stars.

They are caused by the earth passing every year at about this date through a ring composed of millions of minute planets that are revolving about the sun. They strike the earth's atmosphere with great velocity, and the friction created by passing through it sets them on fire. Most of them burn up, leaving a bright tail of ashes behind, and vanish. Some come so near the earth that they appear as balls of fire and have been heard to explode. Others have survived the ordeal of fire and reached the earth, many specimens of which—known as aerolites—are to be seen in our museums.

It is interesting to note that these aerolites are largely composed of iron or other elements common to our own planet. Every thirty-three years there has been an exceptionally brilliant shower at this period. That of 1866 was very fine, but that of 1899 not specially marked.

The Planets.

Mercury will join Venus as an evening star early in November. It will be visible from about the 5th to the 15th of November and will be found in the glow of the setting sun for about an hour after sunset and near where the sun went down. It is about the size of a first magnitude star. But few people seem to know where to look for it, and I find many who have never seen it and who have the impression that it is not visible in this latitude. I have seen it many times here, but, as an evening star in the west, there are atmospheric difficulties, caused by the soft coal smoke rising from the city, that sometimes cut off a low horizon view; but at this season of the year, when high winds prevail, there should be no difficulty in locating it for a few nights at least.

Copernicus is said to never have seen Mercury, which is attributed to mists that arose from the River Vistula, near his home at Frauenburg, and obscured the horizon.

Venus will leave our evening sky this month to appear as a morning star in the east next month. Saturn is now splendidly in view in the evening, and Uranus, invisible to the naked eye, is in the constellation Sagittarius.

Jupiter rises about 10 o'clock p. m. this month and remains in view all night. Mars is a morning star, rising about 4 o'clock a. m. Neptune, visible only in the most powerful telescopes, is to be found in the constellation Gemini.

These maps are not practical for use another year, as the planets are constantly changing their relation to the fixed stars. Venus, for instance, will be a morning star in Scorpio in December of this year, and in December of next year (1907) will be an evening star in Sagittarius. By obtaining a star and planet finder map, with the planet table which accompanies it for a period of twenty years, any one can keep in hourly touch with the stellar worlds, as no technical knowledge is required to use it. —Leon Barritt.

A SAFE PRICE TO PAY-- A SAFE KIND TO BUY

The man who thinks he ought to be able to buy a good Suit or a good Overcoat at $15.00 is right—he can; but he must know what he is buying, for the opportunities for clothes deception in the medium priced goods are many.

One of the commonest faults in a great majority of clothes, read-made or custom-made, is, that they are shaped and faults "covered" by hot flat-iron work.

We can sell you a guaranteed SINCERITY suit for $15

$15.00 buys a SINCERITY Suit or Overcoat; guaranteed as to materials and workmanship. There is no better fitting clothing made, and none that will give you greater satisfaction in its permanence of style and shape retention. $15.00 is a safe price when you know what you are buying. Our $15.00 Suits are guaranteed by us and by the makers. If you find them unsatisfactory, we will make it right with you. Whatever price you want to pay, we can offer you the best values at that figure.

For $16.50, $18, $20, $25, we offer still better garments in materials and workmanship.

But $15.00 is a safe price; and one which we can safely recommend.

The Elevator Boy As a Confidant

He Tells of What Happened to a Business Man Who Did Not Confide In Him.

[Copyright, 1906, by Ruby Douglas.]

IF I ever become a business man and rent an office in a skyscraper I shall lose no time in calling the elevator boy up to my rooms and taking him into my confidence. Sorrow is almost sure to come to those tenants who do not, and a cataclysm surely awaits the man who deliberately seeks to deceive the boy in the cage. We have just had another instance of it in our building.

When old Mr. Fosdick, agent for a suspender factory, took offices with us I liked his benign and fatherly appearance. He looked innocent and truthful. The very next day old Mr. Graham, agent for a banana sirup company, moved in on the floor below. He also looked fatherly and benign and innocent hearted, and I was rejoiced that two such tenants should come to us. Mr. Fosdick had scarcely got settled when he called me up to his office and said:

"SAMMIS, WOULD YOU TAKE ME FOR A MAN OF SYMPATHIES?"

"Sammis, I have been making some inquiries about you. I find that every one about the building is in love with you. You are said to be trustworthy, reliable and a boy who minds his own business."

"Yes, sir; I have my little ways, sir," I replied as modestly as I could.

"And you are the only son of a struggling widow, are you not?"

"Yes, sir. My mother is struggling in the most painful manner. I should be, too, but a gigantic mortgage on the house has got me pinned down so hard and fast that I can't even kick."

"Um! We must see to that. The knowledge appeals to my sympathies. Sammis, would you take me for a man of sympathies—a man who feels for the whole human race about him?"

"I should, sir. It sticks out all over you."

"Thanks. I see that I am not mistaken in you. Down the hall, Sammis, down at No. 275, there is a young woman. She is doing typewriting, I believe."

"Yes, sir; Miss Berden, sir."

"I was noticing the sad expression on her face this morning. She seems to wear a hopeless air, as if the future held nothing for her. As a man full of sympathy for the unfortunate I feel it my duty to—to"—

"To invite her to go to lunch with you," I filled in.

"Well, not at the very outset, Sammis—not at the outset. She might construe my sympathies into impertinence. If you should mention my name to her, carry her a bouquet or two or a theater ticket, let her know that I was thinking of her"—

"I understand, sir, and it shall be done. You are not married, of course?"

"Well—um—er—I am a lone man in the world. Yes, I am a lone man, Sammis, and as the young woman referred to is a lone woman it is only natural that we should be drawn toward each other. By the way, have you caught on to old Graham yet?"

"What is it, sir?"

"I saw the old rascal making eyes at this very young woman the other day. He's seventy if he's a day, and if he hasn't been a rascal all his life then I can't read human nature. You might drop the young woman a word of warning about him, Sammis."

"I will, sir."

"That's all, Sammis. I place myself unreservedly in your hands, and have given you my full confidence."

It was only the next day that old Mr. Graham sent for me and went over almost the same words. He, too, thought the young woman in No. 275 had a hopeless, helpless look, and should be cheered up with bouquets, theater tickets and luncheons. When he got around to old Mr. Fosdick, he said:

"Sammis, there is a villain unadulterated. He is sly, crafty and heartless. If he has not committed murder it is only because he fears the law. He's over sixty years old, and the idea of his flirting around at that age, as I am told he does, is enough to make the heart ache. If you should discover that he is googooing at the typist"—

"I will stop it at once, sir," I replied.

"That's it, Sammis; at once. You are one boy out of a hundred. I shall give you my full confidence and trust you to the limit. Keep your eye on old Fosdick and report if he tries any of his wicked schemes."

It was only three or four days later when old Mr. Fosdick's wife came down to the skyscraper. I knew it was his wife, but he hustled her out as soon as he could, and when she had gone he said to me:

"That was my grandmother, Sammis. The dear old lady came down to ask me to invest some money for her."

Three days later a woman came to the building asking for old Mr. Graham. He happened to be out, and after waiting awhile she said to me:

"You tell my husband when he comes in that I have been here and that if he doesn't send me $10 today I'll have him in court for nousupport."

I didn't tell him, but he learned some way that she had been there, and he explained to me:

"Sammis, that was my housekeeper. I was in arrears to her for salary, but had forgotten it. If she spoke of me as her husband she did it unconsciously. Women often speak that way, you know."

Then I saw that both of these fatherly and benign old men had deceived me. Instead of raking me into their confidence they had deceived me and made a guy of me. Two bouquets from old Mr. Fosdick I chucked into the ash can and followed them with one from old Mr. Graham. The box of candy from the latter I divided with one of the boys. I had been betrayed, and I wanted revenge. I sawed wood and said nothing for a week. Then I felt it my duty toward humanity to tell old Mr. Fosdick that old Mr. Graham had called him a wolf in sheep's clothing.

"What! What's that!" he exclaimed in reply. "Why, the miserable old fraud! But I'll pull his nose for him! Think of a man of his age, Sammis, and a married man at that, making eyes at a young and helpless woman! Calls me a wolf, does he? Knows that I am on his trail and wants to bluff me off! By thunder"—

That same afternoon old Mr. Graham was told that old Mr. Fosdick had referred to him as an attenuated and doddering old scoundrel, and he brought his fist down on his desk and shouted:

"By the seven bulls, but he'll go down on his knees to me for that! What! A reprobate dare to talk about me like that! Just wait till I come across him!"

The meeting took place next forenoon in one of the corridors. They were trying to keep out of each other's way when they met. Then they began to sneer and to call names and finally came to blows. One had his nose skinned and the other his eye blacked, and it was the young woman typist who said to the tenants gathered around:

"Why don't you men take hold of these two old bums and throw them downstairs?"

Next day the two old men moved out. They went down in my cage separately. Mr. Fosdick had a tear in his blackened eye as he put his hand on my shoulder and said:

"Sammis, I made a great mistake when I thought to deceive you. Never again will I withhold my innermost thoughts from an elevator boy."

Old Mr. Graham seemed angry at first, but soon melted, and as he caressed his skinned nose he sadly whispered to me:

"I brought it on myself, Sammis. I go hence. I go to some other elevator boy, but I have learned my lesson. I am going into the heart pouring business from now on."

SAMMIS, the Elevator Boy.

ORINO Laxative Fruit Syrup

Pleasant to take and does not gripe or nauseate

Cures Chronic Constipation, Stomach and Liver Trouble

Stimulation Without Irritation.

ORINO Laxative Fruit Syrup is a new laxative syrup combined with the delicious flavor of fruits, and is very pleasant to take. It will not gripe or sicken. It is much more pleasant and effective than Pills, Tablets and Saline Waters, as it does not derange the Stomach, or irritate the Kidneys, Liver or Bowels.

Constipation.

ORINO Laxative Fruit Syrup will positively cure chronic constipation as it restores the natural action of the intestinal tract. Ordinary cathartics may give temporary relief but the stomach is upset and the bowels are irritated without any permanent benefit having been derived. The condition of the patient remains unchanged. The Stomach, Liver and Bowels have not been stimulated and in a few days a stronger purgative may have to be taken. This is why Pills and Aperient Waters never give permanent relief. Their violent action results in an unnatural movement of the bowels and it is necessary to keep taking them indefinitely.

Why ORINO is different.

ORINO Laxative Fruit syrup is the only preparation that really acts upon all of the digestive organs. Other preparations act upon the lower bowel only and do not touch the Liver. It can very readily be seen that a preparation that does not act upon all of the digestive organs can not cure Chronic Constipation, Torpid Liver, Indigestion, Sour Stomach, etc.

For Biliousness and Sick Headache.

Take ORINO Laxative Fruit Syrup. It sweetens the stomach, aids digestion and acts as a gentle stimulant on the liver and bowels without irritating these organs.

Clears the Complexion.

ORINO Laxative Fruit Syrup stimulates the liver and thoroughly cleanses the system and clears the complexion of pimples and blotches. It is the best laxative for women and children as it is mild and pleasant, and does not gripe or sicken. Refuse substitutes.

OUR GUARANTEE

Take ORINO Laxative Fruit Syrup and if you are not satisfied your money will be refunded.

THE LONGCHAMPS RIOT: THE BURNING OF THE BOXES BY THE MOB — FROM THE DAILY GRAPHIC

Enraged by a bad start, in which four horses, including the favorite, were left at the post in the Handicap Libre, at Longchamps, France, on Sunday, October 14, the mob seized the betting booths containing much of the money wagered through the pari-mutuals and burned the boxes through which the money had passed into the hands of employes. Hundreds of men and women stuffed the gold and notes into their pockets and then took part in the riotous destruction of the race course paraphernalia. Reinforcements of police were summoned to put down the mob, which, however, was in complete control for an hour or more. The remainder of the program, three races, was declared off. The result of the unfortunate affair was to cause a serious discussion on the part of the stewards of the French Jockey club, and later it was announced that for the remainder of the season the sport would not be again resumed at Longchamps.

ODDS and ENDS of INTEREST from FAR and NEAR POLAR MEN.

THE Wyanoke Boat Club, of New York, has one of the most successful handball teams on the Harlem River.

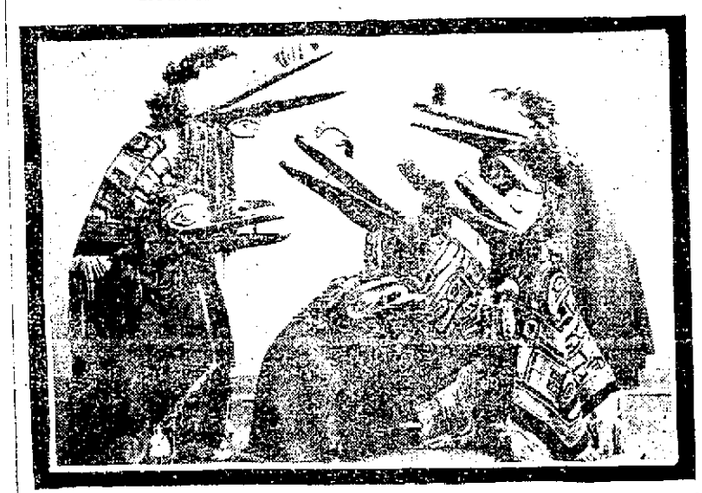
This team has been much before the public in recent years. During the winter its members as a part of its regular course of training run miles in their bathing suits through the snow before each practice game, and on their return to the boat house plunge into the icy Harlem.

The team is captained by Charles Rock, who is one of the most skilfull handball players on the Harlem River, and has been very successful in recent years. The above picture shows some of the team after a cross country run frolicking in the snow.

A BEAR MOTORIST.

MOST animals seem to have a popular dislike for the automobile, but the accompanying picture shows a bear who thinks that motoring is just his style. The photograph was taken on the recent Glidden tour to Bretton Woods, Vermont. While passing from Saratoga to Elizabethtown Mr. C. W. Kelsey, who drove this car, stopped at one of the regular stations for a fresh supply of gasolene. While there two Hungarians appeared with a large cinnamon bear, and when the animal saw the soft padded seats in the automobile he at once showed an inclination to get into it. While seated his trainer put him through several amusing tricks, but when he tried to get him out of the car Mr. Bear gave a grunt and would not move. The car was then shoved down hill for a short distance, and the bear, instead of being frightened, seemed to enjoy it. He had to be dragged and poked with a pole before he would consent to leave the machine. The fact that the bear knew a good mator car when he saw it was later proved when this same auto won the Deming Trophy.

NORTHWEST INDIAN MASQUERADERS.



HERE are more strange figures from the great Northwest. They represent the dancing masks and blankets used by the Tsimshean Indians of British Columbia in their medicine and sun dances. Many an Indian has falated from the exertion of wearing the heavy wooden masks and working the wires that hold the jaws. It is impossible to buy one of these masks. Dealers in Indian curios have smaller ones made for tourists, but they are never like the originals which can only be found among the Indians, who jealously guard them, or in the Sheldon Jackson Museum, at Sitka. The Chilkat blankets on the images are kept in the secret recesses of the Indian huts and only brought out on State occasions.

Each design on them means a story, and the few people who were fortunate enough to get Chilkat blankets in the early days of British Columbia and Alaska paid from $200 to $500 for them.

No Indian blanket is as rare or prized as highly. It is a queer thing that though the Indians live in the dirtiest of huts their blankets and masks always come out fresh when they wish to wear them for some orgy or celebration. The masks in this picture are owned by one family and this accounts for the similarity in shape and design. The colors on them are dull reds, blues and black.

Sultan's Animal Concerts.

IN passing through the magnificent corridors of the Yildiz Palace the visitor beholds a curious and strange sight. It is here that the Sultan of Turkey spends much of his time with his remarkable collection of song birds and pet animals, which are kept here for his entertainment. The great corridors are lined with perches to which are attached birds of brilliant plumage of various sorts of pet animals which His Majesty has assembled from different parts of the globe. The Sultan of Turkey has been known for many years as a great animal collector, and he now possesses a wonderful menagerie of valuable and rare birds and beasts.

Canaries, parrots and Angora cats are his special favorites, and he never misses an opportunity to purchase rare specimens to enrich his collection. A parrot is selected by its wonderful coloring or talking powers, while canaries are chosen by their quality of tone production and length of time they sing without ceasing. One canary recently purchased in London for an almost fabulous price sang with a remarkably sweet voice without a stop for twenty minutes, timed by the Sultan's watch.

A corps of special agents are stationed in various parts of the country for the purpose of collecting rare birds and other animals. They visit all the noted animal shows and are instructed to obtain all such as possess qualities pleasing to His Majesty. A shipment of British birds recently received by the Sultan included a valuable collection of canaries, bullfinches, ducks, chickens and prize doves.

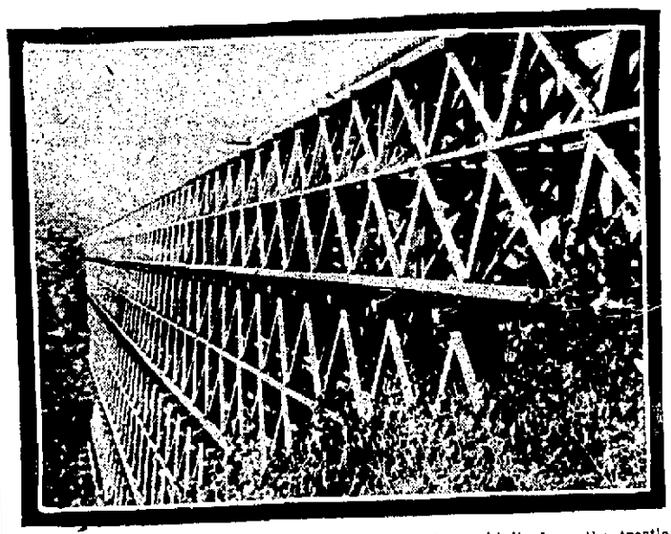
There is no more charming way of growing climbing roses than over trees, the shoots of the stronger varieties soon making headway. An old fruit tree gains in beauty when the most beautiful rambling roses are planted to wreathe the gnarled stems with color.

Blow of a Swordfish.

A REMARKABLE illustration of the force with which a swordfish strikes a blow has recently been reported.

While repairing a ship recently which had completed a long voyage in Pacific waters a sword was found which had successfully pierced a sheathing one inch thick, a three-inch plank and beyond that four and a half inches of firm timber. It has been estimated that it would require nine strokes of a hammer weighing twenty-five pounds to drive an iron bolt of similar shape the same distance.

THE WORLD'S GREATEST WOODEN BRIDGE.



THIS is not a slumberland picture, where Jack the Giant Killer is shown a wonderful criss-cross nightmare puzzle which he has got to climb for a thousand years before he can get his freedom. It is a giant wooden trestle on the line of the Algama Central and Hudson Bay Railroad, "located" just across the Canadian line. It is claimed to be the most stupendous wooden bridge in the world.

It spans the Goulais River and its total length is 1,500 feet—a regular Brooklyn Bridge in length and higher than our bridge across the East River. It is 163 feet above the speckled trout playing in the stream below. At its base the trestle is ninety feet wide. The entire structure is "built up" of strong Canadian timber, framed and anchored together in a new and secure manner with iron bolts.

It is true that there are higher and longer steel bridges in the world, but there is nothing of wood that can compare with this Canadian span for height, length and breadth.

The railroad, by the way, runs through some of the wildest and most picturesque scenery on the American continent. From the top of the trestle you have a view of surpassing grandeur.

In His Native Jungle.

HERE is a picture of the long tailed field mouse. "It was taken after the break up of the frost in the early part of the year, and although it appeared quite tame, doubtless owing to its somewhat starved condition, it was some time ere I obtained the photograph on the flower stem," says Mr. George A. C. Cook. "I have frequently seen field mice in a similar condition in the early part of the year, but hitherto failed to obtain a photograph in a good position."

Corean Straw Rope Swing.

COREA is perhaps the oddest country in the world and the customs and actions that go to make up the daily life of the people are not at all governed by the logic or tradition which moves us on our enlightened way.

They have no clearly regulated sports, nothing apparently that could be likened to a "national game

In Corea, however, the stone fight is exceedingly popular. It is indulged in during the winter, and sometimes many of the participants are badly wounded. In summer the young men turn to a much milder sport, which, contrasted with the other, seems almost feminine. They pass most of their recreation hours swinging in straw rope swings, and seem entirely happy in the sport. The straw rope, if well made, is extremely durable and can stand considerable weight, as may be judged when three able bodied young men impose their weight upon the swing, standing on the shoulders of each other, after the manner of acrobats. It may be very fine pastime, but the average American, it is safe to say, would find in it very little appeal.

OLD VIRGINIA'S OYSTER ROASTS.

NOW that the months with an "R" in them have come again you can eat oysters without fear of illness or death. There are more "fads" and cranky ideas about oysters than any other thing outside of poetry. In Rhode Island they think no eatable shellfish exists outside of their little State. On Long Island only Blue Points and Rockaways are considered safe and digestible. Baltimoreans hold similar views and for two centuries Baltimore has called itself the hub of the oyster universe.

Now listen to what an old Virginian says of their oysters:—

Every one knows of the delightful lusciousness of the Chesapeake Bay oysters. But how many are acquainted with the ideal Southern roasted oyster? In Eastern Virginia, where the tidal rivers and estuaries are paved with these shellfish, a favorite feast for a winter afternoon is an oyster roast.

A spot is selected near the water's edge, preferably upon a wooded point terminating in a sandy beach. A fire of brushwood is built on a foundation of logs; then on a bed of glowing coals are dumped the oysters, fresh from the sea. As soon as the shells begin to pop open, then the oysters are withdrawn and served barbecue style.

In the picture you see but a few of the revellers. They have eaten pecks and bushels of roasted oysters and are now asleep in the woods.

MUCH interest has been aroused at Sandown by a veritable cliff phenomenon. On the face of the Culver cliffs there has been formed by the action of the waves the striking outline of a hull, which is so easily distinguishable that its preservation is being advocated locally.

Tin Can Experts.

THERE is a curious army of workers in Birmingham, England, who are known by the title of meat tin hunters. They are several degrees below the man who calls for rags and bones, for their business chiefly takes them to refuse heaps. The "meat tin hunter" is ready to search any dust bin to which he is allowed access, and many of the big hotels and restaurants give the necessary permission. The "hunters" travel all over the capital of the Midlands five days in the week, and on the sixth day they make their money, for the tin cans are melted down and the solder thus obtained is readily disposed of. It is, however, difficult to earn more than a few shillings, even if cans are plentiful. The best time for the tin searchers is in the summer, when canned meats are in great demand.

About Tunnels.

THE completion of the Simplon Tunnel, twelve and a quarter miles in length, at a cost of $15,500,000 and at an average rate of two miles a year, has induced the publication of some comparative notes on other great tunnels. The Hoosac Tunnel, in Massachusetts, five miles in length, was begun in 1854 and completed in 1876, with an average progress of 5.5 feet per day. The Mont Cenis Tunnel, eight miles in length, was begun in 1857 and completed in 1871, with an average progress of eight feet per day. The Sutro Tunnel, in Nevada, four miles in length, was begun in 1869 and completed in 1878, with an average progress of 10.24 feet per day. The St. Gothard Tunnel—1872-1881—nine and a quarter miles in length, was driven at the rate of 14.6 feet per day. The Arlberg Tunnel—1880—1884—6.48 miles in length, was driven at the rate of 27.8 feet per day.

How to Write Plays.

Mr. A. W. Pinero has an unusual method of writing his plays. His working day does not begin until that of the average city man is over. In the morning he goes out, preferably on his bicycle, returning in time for early dinner. Then he has a comfortable sleep, and on waking up, late in the afternoon, he prepares for business. After a cup of tea he goes to his desk and remains working at his play until far into the night. He writes and rewrites, and is never satisfied with anything but what he feels to be his best.

School for Ghosts.

IN this age of modern civilization there are schools for the advancement of almost every phase of human life, but probably the oddest educational institution ever heard of is a school for ghosts recently established in England by Mrs. Endicott. It is to her school that the ghosts come for instruction and to receive information appertaining to the spirit world so that they can more intelligently understand things regarding the higher life.

Mrs. Endicott claims that many of her scholars were formerly politicians and business men who found no time during their earthly existence to devote to matters concerning the occult world. She believes that many houses are haunted because the ghosts are consumed with a burning love of the people they haunt and are not aware of the fact that they generally frighten those mortals with whom they come in contact. She also claims that those people who go searching through pedigrees are apt to be surrounded by all manner of ghosts. The practice of cutting certain passages out of books and placing them under pillows is another evil that she warns her friends against, as she did so and was startled one night by being awakened by a girl with glaring red eyes staring at her, who insisted upon remaining near her.

Mrs. Endicott's personal experiences with ghosts have been most unusual, and she avers that around all hotel doorways she recognizes groups of spirits watching and that different rooms and halls where she has delivered speeches were also crowded with spirits during her presence.

Gems that Stand Heat.

AMONG the precious stones the ruby, the sapphire, spinel and various kinds of garnets can be heated. It is to be presumed that such heating is done with great caution, and that such stones when heated are cooled very slowly, and that they are not exposed when hot to contact with fluids or cold air.

The diamond also may be exposed to great heat, but only at the risk of an increase of the extent of defective marks, cracks and the injury of polished surfaces. Therefore such heating is to be avoided as much as possible, especially when stones of good size are in question.

Emeralds, aquamarine, topazes, hyacinthes and some others cannot be exposed to heat, as some of these would lose their color, and opaque and translucent specimens would be cracked by artificial heat.

Preferred Living in Bed.

IT is seldom that we hear of a more eccentric man than was Professor Oedmann, a Swedish theologian, who died a short time ago in Stockholm. One time during a prolonged illness he was compelled to remain in bed for many weeks, and during this time conceived a liking for lying snugly ensconced in warm blankets, free from the caprices of the weather and protected from the perils of catching another cold. After his illness the professor was seized with a senseless dread of taking cold and insisted upon keeping his bedroom windows closed down tight, and from that time until his death spent practically all of his time in bed, where he did all his regular work and ate his three meals a day.

So very odd was he that in examining written exercises by the students he refused to touch the paper upon which they were written until it had first been warmed over the stove. It is claimed that the professor's death was actually caused by a visit from an old gentleman on a stormy day who desired an interview with him. This caller accidentally entered the chamber of the professor with his clothes covered with snow, a sight which aggravated the professor, and he ordered his visitor to leave the room at once. Unfortunately the visitor was quite deaf and misundrstood him and approached nearer to the bedside of the angry professor. Herr Oedmann now had become greatly alarmed and in his frantic excitement broke a blood vessel and expired.

About Cameos.

A VERY high authority upon such subjects in speaking of cameos recently said:—

"The word 'cameo' as commonly used is very indefinite. The real derivation of the word is unknown. As we understand them, cameos may be defined as small basreliefs cut upon some precious substance of especial hardness or beauty.

"It cannot be determined with any exactness when the art of cameo cutting was first known, but it is very ancient. The earliest examples are found in the scarabs of ancient Egypt. Glass cameos were made by the Romans long before the Christian era. It was about the third century B. C. that the peculiar adaptability of banded onyx for cameo work was generally recognized, and cameos rapidly took the place of seal rings as popular articles of adornment. The staining of onyx artificially is how well understod and easily accomplished. Blue may be produced by Prussian blue, green by nitrate of nickel and black by oil or sugar.

"All the earlier cameos, except the Egyptian scarabaei, which were cut on comparatively soft materials with flint tools, were probably cut with diamond splinters alone, but later diamonds were used only to sketch the design and the actual cutting was done with a hand drill.

"The most beautiful of all cameos are those cut by the Greeks three to four centuries B. C., not only the portrait cameos, but the cups and vases of onyx. Paste imitations, cast from moulds, were also known as early as the second century B. C."

AN EDISON SOUVENIR.

HERE is a picture of a souvenir testimonial—a solid gold "record," which was presented to Edison in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel recently by the phonograph "Jobbers" of the United States in national convention. It was stated that Mr. Edison had surprised the world many times, but it had become the lot of Victor H. Rapke, of New York, to surprise him with one of his own records, made in solid gold in the form of a testimonial.

This record was manufactured under the personal supervision of Walter H. Miller, of the Edison Laboratory, whose ingenuity, together with Mr. Rapke's originality, made possible the gift to Mr. Edison. It is valued at $1,000. The design, with its graceful scrolls and flowers artistically intermingled, shows intricate chasing in the style of the Louis XV. period. The gold record is mounted on an ebony base, in all twelve inches high.

Speaking of "records," there is no record of any one at that convention of agents and experts, who have made fortunes in these records, who had the thought to ask why the man who had invented the stock ticker, with its neat little tape, had not invented a similar device for recording the conversation of the talking and singing machines. A more clumsy and crude invention for recording speech is hard to find than the wax cylinder. If the news of the financial world can be reproduced every day in Wall street on a film of paper it is strange that phonographic communication could not be recorded in a similar way.

A TREE THAT GROWS OUT OF A BOULDER.

ALL the world has heard of the far famed wooden nutmeg of Connecticut. It became a household word early in the century—about the time shoe pegs were shipped out of the State and sold as oats.

It was in this substantial State of Connecticut that Barnum was born, life insurance and the brass windlass two hour winding watch were invented.

Travellers have often complained of being unable to sleep in hotels where the porches were covered with tin roofs, because of the noise made by wooden nutmegs falling from the trees. Here is what a traveller sends the SUNDAY HERALD concerning a visit to the land of the wooden nutmeg, where the trees thrive best on top of bowlders and stone quarries.

After leaving the old town of Cheshire, on the new trolley line from New Haven to Waterbury, the road winds steeply upward, and just before entering a cut on the high ground the cars go slowly that passengers may see the curious freak of nature which has made the rare combination of a mature tree on top of a big bowlder. Its roots ever widening the fissures it has made in the great gray rock. Its rootlets must forage far afield for soil nutriment, since its perch is at some height from the ground, but whatever it gets and wherever the tree has been nourished as well as if grown under more natural conditions. The car conductors are extremely courteous, calling the attention of strangers to what is certainly an extraordinary sight.

STOCKS AND BONDS.

The Day on Wall Street.

New York, Nov. 2.—The London stock market on the resumption of trading after the holiday did not take up fully the advances the American made here yesterday. The tone of the opening market here was unsettled in consequence and prices in the major portion of stocks receded. The Hill stocks, however, rose buoyantly. Great Northern preferred rising rapidly 3 points and Northern Pacific 2½. Chesapeake & Ohio declined 1¼. Reading a point and Pennsylvania ⅝. The trading was active.

Spectacular buying of the Hill stocks imparted a degree of strength to the market but the rise in other important railroad stocks was not large. More interest was displayed in the specialties, particularly in local public utilities. The high prices of Northern Pacific and Great Northern preferred indicated gains of 5¼ and 3½ respectively, some of which were lost when the realizing began. Elsewhere the advances reached 2 points in Delaware & Hudson, 1¼ to 1⅝ in Brooklyn Transit, Consolidated Gas and Lead, and 1 in Amalgamated Copper and Knickerbocker Ice. Isolated declines reached 2 in American Linseed preferred, 1¼ in National Railroad of Mexico preferred and 1⅛ in St. Louis & San Francisco second preferred. The market became quieter but was near the top prices at 11 o'clock, Reading, Union Pacific and Smelting rising a point.

The market was quiet during the second hour's trading but the tone was strong and substantial additions were made to previous gains. Reading rose 1⅜, Brooklyn Transit 2⅛, Smelting 1⅝, the preferred and Colorado Fuel 1½, Tennessee Coal 1⅜ and St. Paul, Erie second preferred, the Interborough Metropolitan stocks, American Car, Sloss-Sheffield Steel and General Electric 1. Chesapeake & Ohio fell 1¼. Bonds were irregular.

Some of the stocks that were conspicuous in the morning advance, fell back, but their influence on the market was nullified by advances at other points. Business contracted as usual when the speculation became irregular. Northwestern and Brooklyn Transit were marked up 3 points in all, New York Central, Rock Island preferred, Smelting preferred, Lead and the Interborough Metropolitan stocks 1¾ to 1⅞ and Southern Pacific and Louisville & Nashville and Rock Island 1. Baltimore & Ohio preferred lost a point.

After 1 o'clock Reading was run up to 145⅝ but the rest of the market did not respond notably and dropped when the rise in Reading paused. Lackawanna sold at a decline of 4½ and more than recovered.

The market closed moderately active and steady. Reading was pushed up further to an extreme rise of 4⅝. Elsewhere the list reflected a disposition to take profit and sagged back. Wabash preferred lost 1¼ and St. Paul more than its rise. Reading then reacted 1¾.

EPISCOPALIAN FACES TRIAL.

Formal Charge of Heresy Against Rev. C. C. Cox, of Cincinnati.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Nov. 2.—A formal charge of heresy has been lodged against Rev. George Clark Cox, rector of the Protestant Episcopal church at Clifton and widely known in this city because of a recent letter written by him and later endorsed in a sermon in which he disavowed belief in part of the creed. The matter will be taken up by the standing committee of the diocese of southern Ohio next Wednesday at a special meeting called to meet in this city. The matter has attracted wide attention but was not brought regularly before the officials of the church until an "information" against Mr. Cox was lodged with the standing committee by the Rev. Samuel Welles, rector of St. Luke's church.

VATICAN WILL REJECT IT.

Pope to Turn Down Decision of French Council of State.

Paris, Nov. 2.—A prelate of high rank, whose name is not given, is quoted in the press here today as saying that the pope will reject the decision of the council of state, rendered October 31, by which, under the law of 1881, meetings organized by private individuals for the purpose of worship will be recognized as legal after December 11 when the church and state separation law formally goes into effect. The prelate added that the pontiff would never recognize that the functions of religion can assume the character of public meetings.

REFUSES TO TAKE UP CHARGES.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Oct. 2.—On the ground that it is a matter to be settled by the national association, being an internal matter, the national commission has declined to consider the Michael Kelly-L. A. Lillard bribery charges from Minneapolis, the decision being published today. Because of the serious nature of the charges, however, the commission in referring the case back to the national association "strongly recommend that that board thoroughly and carefully examine into the entire matter and that the men charged be either convicted or acquitted."

Day's Happenings in the Industrial World

ELEVEN CARS DERAILED.

Wabash Has Wreck Near Peru Which Blocks the Road.

Wabash passenger trains from the west today were delayed by an accident to a freight train at Peru early this morning. The particulars of the accident were reported here, but it is understood that it was nothing more than the derailment of eleven cars and no one was injured. The trains affected were Nos. 8 and 6. The Continental limited from the east was also over two hours late today, the trouble being on the lines east of Detroit.

BLUFFTON LINE IMPROVEMENTS

New Cars Will Soon Be Added and Rate Schedule Changed.

Patrons of the Buffalo division of the Fort Wayne and Wabash Valley Traction company will now have to purchase their tickets before boarding the cars, tickets having been placed on sale by Superintendent Shelton this morning. The piece of pasteboard which will entitle them to a ride will cost them just as much as the cash fares have been, but on the round trip tickets, another new feature, there will be a reduction of about ten cents. The new rates are: Between Fort Wayne and Bluffton, one way 50 cents, round trip 90 cents; Fort Wayne and Kingsland, one way 40 cents, round trip 70 cents; Fort Wayne and Ossian, one way 30 cents, round trip 50 cents; Fort Wayne and Yoder, one way 25 cents, round trip 40 cents; Fort Wayne and Ferguson, one way 15 cents, round trip 25 cents. Cars are now run on an hour and a half schedule, and baggage will be carried free on this as on the other lines of the road. Many new improvements in the service are contemplated and new cars will be added to the equipment as soon as they arrive from the shops.

Thomas Elliott, an electrical expert from Cincinnati, was in the city today conferring with Frank Clark, the construction engineer of the Spy Run station, and stated that they expected to have one of the turbines in operation next week. The new turbine has a capacity of 2,400 kilowatts as compared to 1,700 kilowatts, the combined capacity of the old power plant. The plan of the experts is to place the new plant in operation by piecemeal and the old station will not be taken out of commission until the new one is entirely completed.

NEW TOURIST CARS.

The special train of California tourists on the Nickel Plate yesterday carried the first of the new tourist cars which the Pullman company is building. The Nickel Plate has the first call on these cars and intends to replace all the old style cars and add a number more. A tourist car is really a Pullman car, as the name is understood, the only difference being that the tourist cars lack some of the embellishments, such as mirrors, hard wood finishing, etc., of the standard cars. Rattan takes the place of plush in the upholstering of the tourist cars. The new cars differ from the old in that they have smoking room, etc., like the standard Pullman sleepers. The fare on a tourist car is one-half that of the regular Pullman fare.

HOW CITIES ARE MADE

And How They Are "Killed by Railway Companies.

The following from the Railway World will be of interest in this part of the country, and particularly to those who are in any way interested in Andrews and Ashley, towns that were made by the Wabash company and then practically killed:

"With the power to make towns spring up like magic or disappear from the face of the earth the modern railroad possesses faculties akin to witchcraft. Two examples of this peculiar influence have recently been brought to notice. By the purchase of the town of Shire Oaks on the upper Monongahela river in Pennsylvania, the Pennsylvania railroad becomes the owner of the Banner mines of the Pittsburg Coal company, the First M. E. church, the Shire Oaks brewery, a hotel, a company store and fifty houses. All will be torn down to be replaced by a monster yard for the coal trade. The community will move to Elben, several miles below. The improvements at Shire Oaks will cost several million dollars.

"In the same state, near Harrisburg, and through the work of the Pennsylvania railroad a new town is coming into existence. It is called Enola, and it is laid out on a tract of 100 acres. In the classification yards, which give rise to the new town, there are 100 miles of tracks which will be used to re-make freight trains.

"Although but a few months ago the site of the town was vacant ground, it is fast being covered with well-designed and well-constructed houses, has a public school, an electric lighting plant, a complete sewer system, an incorporated fire department and boasts fully 1,000 inhabitants. The first building erected was a hotel for the accommodation of railroad men, but this has been turned over to the Pennsylvania railroad department of the Young Men's Christian association, which conducts it as a railroad men's hotel, under religious influences. To encourage the residents of Enola to own their own homes, the company offers them for sale upon deferred payments upon two distinctly easy plans, similar, but in some respects superior, to the terms available in building and loan associations."

WANT TWO CENT FARE.

Pennsylvania Will Ask Its Legislators for a Law Like Ohio's.

(Plattsburg Post.)

All records for number of tickets sold for the regular daily passenger traffic in Pittsburg were broken during the first twenty-four hours the reduced rate tickets were on sale. The traveling public, however, is not satisfied with the new 2½ cent fare and the Pennsylvania state board of trade, through its secretary, S. M. Williams, has sent letters to candidates for the state senate and legislature, asking their attitude on the 2-cent fare measure. A few of the candidates have failed to reply, but all who have answered favor the reduced rate.

KILLED IN AN ACCIDENT.

Passenger Conductor John P. Herring, of the Pennsylvania, will go to Galion, O., tomorrow to attend the funeral of his uncle. The deceased was named John P. Herring also and the telegram announcing his death gave Mrs. Herring, the wife of the conductor, a bad fright. It was dated Galion and stated that "J. P. Herring had been fatally injured in a railway accident at that place." Mrs. Herring didn't consider the source of the telegram and at first thought it referred to her husband. J. P. Herring, sr., has visited his nephew in this city and was quite well known here.

ADOPT $25 MILEAGE BOOK.

At a special meeting of the Central Passenger association, which closed in Chicago yesterday passenger officials decided upon the $25 interchangeable mileage book with a rebate of $5 instead of $10 when the book is used. This compromise was reached as a result of the Pennsylvania lines and the Erie Railroad company agreeing to withhold their $20 books, which were to have been placed on sale yesterday.

SOME CHANGES AT SHOPS.

Some changes affecting men who have been in the employ of the Pennsylvania for a quarter of a century are about to take place. James Chamberlain, who has had charge of the gate leading to the erecting shop on Lafayette street several years, is to be assigned a position in the shops; W. F. Krudop, assistant fireman at the planing mills' power plant, will become watchman, vice Mr. Chamberlain, and John J. Campbell has been employed as assistant fireman at the planing mills, to fill the vacancy arising from the transfer of Mr. Krudop. E. Robinson, night fireman at the main power plant, has resigned to take a similar position with the Fort Wayne Pressed Brick company.

VISITS OLD SHOPMATES.

James Carrigan, of Mansfield, O., called at the Pennsylvania shops yesterday to see the men with whom he was associated in shop work over a quarter of a century ago. He found only about fifteen of his former associates in the machine shop, twenty-five years having wrought many changes in the personnel of the shopmen. Since 1880 Mr. Carrigan has been employed in the Aultman & Taylor establishment at Mansfield and yesterday was the first time he visited the Pennsylvania shops since he left the city, twenty-six years ago.

CHECKMAN RESIGNS.

C. W. McCabe, who for some time has been employed at the interurban station in a clerical capacity, his last position being that of checkman, has resigned and has accepted a position with another road and will leave the city. John McElhaney has been brought here from the Huntington office to fill Mr. McCabe's position temporarily, but it is expected that he will remain.

STEAM SHOVEL RETURNS TO PIT

Next Monday the Grand Rapids and Indiana company will bring its steam shovel, which has been employed at Grand Rapids for some time, back to Wolcottville, and put it in operation there. It is the intention to strip the gravel beds and make other arrangements for great improvements on the G. R. & I. next spring.

WABASH MAN PROMOTED.

A. P. Titus, car accountant for the Wabash lines east of Toledo, has been appointed superintendent of car service for the Gould lines in Pittsburg, to succeed W. F. Schaufele, who resigned about six months ago. Mr. Titus was formerly chief clerk to Mr. Schaufele.

Next Tuesday, Foreman H. T. Hogan, of the Pennsylvania machine shop, will enter upon a vacation, which he will spend in visiting relatives in the east.

The Fort Wayne members of the Pennsylvania freight committee are in for a Sunday visit with their families. They will start upon an eastern trip Monday.

On account of the election Tuesday, the Electrotechnic club of the Fort Wayne Electric works will hold its meeting next week on Monday evening.

O. M. Foster, assistant master mechanic, and P. J. Miller, road foreman of engines of the Lake Erie and Western, were in the city last evening on business.

B. Grummons has resigned as a freight handler at the interurban station and will return to his old business, that of a locomotive fireman. He will take service with the Nickel Plate.

Machinist John Strawbridge, who went to Cincinnati two weeks ago, has taken a position in the factory of a company engaged in making tools and may remain there.

H. F. Schultz, who has been suffering from stomach trouble for two months, is improving and announces that he will resume his duties at the Pennsylvania copper shop next Monday.

The new interurban station and train shed of the Wabash Valley Traction company at Muncie is completed and was opened for business yesterday. It is a very handsome building and is an ornament to the city.

William Armel, machinist at the Fort Wayne Foundry and Machine company, has returned from Delphos, O., where he has been for some time assisting in some construction work for the company.

Conductor C. J. Hauael, Brakeman F. J. Watt and G. B. Alexander, switchman, have resumed their respective positions after short absences for various reasons. They are Nickel Plate men.

Pittsburg Post: "A committee representing the switchmen who have presented demands for higher wages will go to Philadelphia in a few days for a conference with W. W. Atterbury, general manager of the Pennsylvania."

Trainmaster F. T. Deahl, of the eastern division of the Nickel Plate, advanced six men from brakemen to conductors yesterday. Recent promotions and the employment of new men on this end of the line indicates a heavy business on the Nickel Plate.

Pennsylvania Engineer E. Jamey has joined a number of friends from Ohio in a hunting expedition into Wisconsin. He will probably remain there a month. Last year Mr. Jamey had a pleasant and successful expedition to that country.

John P. Schmidt, C. H. Schnabel and J. Horstman, Pennsylvania shopmen, are off duty on account of sickness. Frank P. Sarlas, of the planing mills, is off with an injured leg and N. W. Her, of the boiler shop, is off on account of an injured eye.

An Imitation Stove Will Give Imitation Heat

Avoid the cheaply constructed, putty jointed stove as you would counterfeit money, because it is just as worthless—and in many cases even more so. For not only does it radiate heat badly, but it wastes its original cost many times in fuel.

The majority of manufacturers, attracted by the phenomenal success of Cole's Original Hot Blast Stove, have imitated and copied it ever since it was put on the market. But in looks only have they been able to reproduce this wonderful heater.

For the features which make Cole's Hot Blast so economical in fuel, so effective in heating, and so durable in construction, are all patented and protected.

The joints of the ordinary stove are plastered with stove putty in an endeavor to make them air-tight.

When the putty dries up and falls out, cold air is sucked in through the cracks—and the valuable gases from soft or hard coal, which should be burned, go up the chimney, along with most of the heat.

Cole's Original Hot Blast Stove

Burns Soft Coal, Lignite, Hard Coal or Wood

Made without stove putty. It remains air tight during the entire life of the stove, and is sold under the following guarantee, which cannot be made on any other heating stove in the world:

GUARANTEE:

1—We guarantee a saving of one-third in fuel over any lower draft stove of the same size with soft coal or slack.
2—We guarantee Cole's Hot Blast to use less hard coal for heating a given space than any base burner made with the same size fire-pot.
3—We guarantee that the rooms can be heated from one to two hours each morning, with the soft coal or hard coal put in the stove the evening before.
4—We guarantee that the stove will hold fire with soft coal thirty-six hours without attention.
5—We guarantee a uniform heat day and night, with soft coal, hard coal, or lignite, with the same size fire-pot.
6—We guarantee every stove to remain absolutely air-tight as long as used.
7—We guarantee the feed door to be smoke and dust proof.

The big expense of heating your home is in the fuel and not the first cost of your stove. Don't let yourself be persuaded to buy anything but Cole's Original Hot Blast.

Ask for free booklet on "Scientific Combustion," which will show you how to heat your home twice as comfortably at one-half the present cost.

CAUTION See the name "Cole's Hot Blast from Chicago," on the feed door of each stove. None genuine without it.

WOULD YOU EAT CORN HUSKS

to get at the corn? Of course you would not. Then why should you take the greasy oil of the cod's liver to get the valuable medicinal elements contained therein!

The oil or grease has no medicinal virtue, but it is the medicinal elements enveloped in the oil which represents all the tonic and curative properties of cod liver oil.

In Vinol you get all of the medicinal curative elements of cod liver oil actually taken from fresh cods' livers, but no oil. The oil is thrown away for the same reason you throw away the corn husks.

On account of the wonderful medicinal, curative and body-building properties of Vinol, every person in Fort Wayne who is overworked, run down, debilitated, every old person, every weak woman, every sufferer with chronic colds, bronchitis or incipient consumption should try Vinol on our offer to return money if it fails to benefit. Meyer Broathers Co., druggists. Two big stores.

Note.—While we are sole agents for Vinol in Fort Wayne, it is now for sale at the leading drug store in nearly every town and city in the country. Look for the Vinol agency in your town.

Please Shut the Door

A familiar warning from now until next spring. Make the door keep itself shut. A little pneumatic device that shuts the door quickly, but softly, costs but little and saves fuel, colds, time and temper. It's weatherstrip time, too. Weather strips are cheap, but they keep the cold out and the heat in. These and other winter hardware needs can be supplied here for a very small cost.
